The PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

Containing the Freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtic.

To the PUBLIC.

I AM ſorry to find myſelf under the Neceſſity of troubling the Public a ſecond Time, upon a Matter of no Importance to them, though of ſome Conſequence to myſelf; however, I truſt every candid Man will think it a Duty I owe to myſelf and Family, to vindicate my Character from a Charge, which, if credited, muſt render me unworthy of every Kind of Confidence, both public and private. I can ſeriouſly ſay, it has been the Study of my Life to avoid Diſputes, and I believe no Perſon is leſs diſpoſed to have a public Controverſy than myſelf: But when I find a Man, in a public Station, endeavouring to blaſt my Reputation, I cannot well be eaſy, without endeavouring to defeat the evil Purpoſes which ſeem intended me.

I obſerve two Pieces, the one ſigned by Doctor Wrangel, and the other an anonymous Performance; and really, could I believe the Doctor when he ſays Divine Providence has directed the Hearts of the Veſtry, &c. I ſhould think it the greateſt Preſumption, to engage in a Diſpute in which Divine Providence, the Veſtry, and the Doctor, were all againſt me: And here I think a Compliment due to the Doctor, for his great Skill in ſhifting the Burden from his own Shoulders, for a Reaſon which we, in this Country, are not accuſtomed to hear; becauſe, truly, he is a Clergyman, and I am a Layman, and therefore we are not upon an equal Footing. This, notwithſtanding, I muſt take the Liberty to tell the Doctor, that I have nothing to alledge againſt the Veſtry; that ſome of the Members are my particular Friends; that if he means ungenerouſly to cauſe a Variance between them and me, by lugging me into a public Diſpute with them, he is miſtaken; and that as he is the Perſon who propagated the Report alluded to in my former Paper, ſo he is the Perſon whom I call upon to ſupport the Charge, or to acknowledge that he has propagated a Report without Foundation. And here I bid Defiance to the Doctor and his Friends, and aſſure them, that I am under no Uneaſineſs about what they may publiſh reſpecting me; but before any Piece will be intitled to an Anſwer, it will be expected that the Names of the Authors appear at the Bottom; otherwiſe it will be ſuppoſed to be inſupportable, and of Courſe unworthy of Notice.

I expected from the Doctor's Introduction, that he had left all to the Veſtry; but it ſeems, though he tells us Divine Providence directed their Hearts, yet they had omitted one Point, which is ſcarcely ſuppoſable of People directed by Divine Providence; however, I am glad the Doctor has mentioned it, I mean the Converſation that paſſed between him and me, as it gives me an Opportunity of ſtating the Facts at large---They are thus; upon my hearing the Doctor had inſinuated to ſeveral Perſons that I had detained and made Uſe of the Church Money, I expoſtulated with him upon it, and told him, I ſhould be obliged publickly to vindicate my Character, unleſs he would contradict the Report; he then told me, I was at Liberty to do as I pleaſed: Some Time afterwards he ſent for me, and ſeemed diſpoſed to ſettle Matters amicably, and which was very agreeable to my Inclinations; and upon his engaging to declare to every Perſon, whom he had inſinuated it to, that his Suſpicions were groundleſs, I told him I ſhould be ſatisfied; this he promiſed to do, but this he never did; and upon my finding the Scandal had been further propagated, with Induſtry, I thought it my Duty, and was adviſed to contradict it, and to publiſh the Report of the Gentlemen who examined my Accounts by Order of the Veſtry, and which Settlement was had upon my own Application. After this I ſhould have ſuſpected that the Doctor's Suſpicions were removed, and that he would have taken as much Pains to do my Character Juſtice, as he had to injure it; but as he has not done it, I cannot help thinking, that if the Doctor will carefully examine his Conſcience, he will find it will not fully clear him of intending an Injury to me, and in this Opinion every impartial Perſon will join me.

The Doctor, it ſeems, is not ſatisfied with having laboured in private to wound my Reputation, but is pleaſed to publiſh to the World, that I was guilty of ſome "ſtrange Conduct in the Management of the Truſt I had from the Church." What the Doctor's Idea of a ſtrange Conduct may be, I cannot tell; but I ſuppoſe it may be a Perſon's not ſacrificing his own Judgment to the Doctor's. However, as this Charge is general, I ſhall give it this Anſwer, That I ſhould be ſorry my Management of the Truſt I received from the Church, ſhould give Umbrage to any Perſon; that I did endeavour, while in Office, to diſcharge my Duty agreeable to the Truſt repoſed in me, and that I know of no other ſtrange Conduct, than my not implicitly ſubmitting to the Directions of the Doctor. He ſays, that "whenever he ſhall be convinced that he has injured me, even in Suſpicion, he will not heſitate a Moment to make me all the Satisfaction in his Power." Why really, Doctor, I am very indifferent about what you ſuſpect; but I hope the Public will think you have endeavoured to do me an Injury; that your Suſpicions are groundleſs; that you have moſt unjuſtly, both publicly and privately, endeavoured to ruin my Reputation. Why do not you anſwer the Facts charged upon you, and why do you fly from the Point, and endeavour to take off the Attention of your Readers, by throwing out dark Hints, and travelling into Facts no Ways relative to the Purpoſe? What Method can I take to ſatisfy the Public and you, that I am not that diſhoneſt wicked Man you would have the World to believe I am? Have I not ſubmitted my Accounts to the Inſpection of a Committee appointed by the Veſtry, and have they not found my Accounts fair and upright? Or would you have the World believe, that thoſe three Gentlemen have proſtituted their Conſciences to ſerve me, or that they have been aiding me to rob and plunder the Church? Do you know there is ſuch a Word in the Engliſh Language as Sacrilege, and that this is the Crime you would willingly fix upon me, and obtain the Sanction of the Veſtry for that Purpoſe? What have I done to you, that you ſhould thus labour to make me abhorred and deteſted by Mankind? Is it becauſe I have followed my own Judgment, in oppoſing ſome of your Meaſures? I know nothing elſe that could give you Offence.

As to the Piece publiſhed in the Name of the Veſtry, I think it improper to give it any Anſwer; firſt, becauſe I have no Complaint againſt them; ſecondly, becauſe I look upon it as an Artifice of the Doctor's, to avoid giving me the Satisfaction my injured Character demands, and which he muſt know is due to me; and, thirdly, becauſe ſome of the Members are my particular Friends, with whom I always have lived, and ſtill deſire to live, on good Terms, and who I can ſcarcely believe ever gave their Concurrence to the Piece, or to the fixing a Stain upon the Character of their Friend. I have as great a Regard for the Proſperity of the Church as any Man; and it is therefore I am ſorry the Doctor has had Influence enough to cauſe an Entry to be made of this Piece in the Veſtry Book. Is it to ſerve the Cauſe of Religion, or is it to injure me and my Family with Poſterity? I ſhall leave the Matter to the cool Reflection of the Gentlemen of the Veſtry, and I dare ſay they will ſee the Impropriety of the Entry, and that the Veſtry Books in no Church were ever made uſe of for ſuch a Purpoſe.

Thus have I endeavoured to anſwer the exceptionable Parts of Doctor Wrangel's Piece, and I hope I have done it to the Satisfaction of the Public. I declare ſolemnly, it was with Reluctance I firſt troubled the Public, and had the Doctor been ingenuous enough to have taken ſome Pains to clear my Character, I ſhould not have done it; but as he, on the contrary, gave himſelf no Trouble about it, I was obliged to do myſelf that Juſtice which he refuſed me. I hope this will be the laſt Time I ſhall have Occaſion to appear in Print on this Subject. If the Doctor can ſupport the Charge, I give him Liberty to do it; if he cannot, I hope he will have Candour enough to ſay ſo, and not amuſe the Public with Things foreign to the Point.

LEGHORN, March 21.

THEY write from Corsica, that the fortress of Capraia surrendered to the Malecontents on the 15th, and that the garrison were made prisoners of war.

LONDON.

April 16. Yesterday a right hon. person laid the state of the public before an august assembly, in such a manner as gained him great applause; and 'tis said mention was made of a scheme that would soon be laid before them, which it was hoped would answer many salutary purposes.

April 18.

An additional duty of three pence per ell is talked of to be laid upon all linen cloth, above one yard wide, which shall be imported into this kingdom from foreign parts, excepting from Holland and Flanders.

Also an additional duty of three pence per ell, upon all canvas drilling to be imported.

A formidable fleet of ships of war, it is said, will soon be sent up the Mediterranean.

Extract of a letter from Leghorn, March 28.

"We hear that among the Corsican troops who stormed the island of Capraia, there were several English soldiers, whose valour greatly contributed to the success of the expedition."

Letters from Dantzick, of the 27th ult. say, "In the new treaty of commerce, concluded between Russia and Great-Britain, some stipulations are made to the advantage of the merchants and inhabitants of this country."

Some letters from Corsica say, a general congress of the malecontents was to be held on the 15th of next month at Brando, a fortified town in the center of that island, to consider of certain propositions on the part of France, England, and Sardinia, towards effecting an accommodation with the republic of Genoa.

Letters from Venice, of the 27th past, say, that they are the more disturbed there, on account of the tumults which have happened in Dalmatia, as they must either make good the damages done to the Turkish merchants, or draw upon them the Resentment of the Porte.

It is said that their Royal Highnesses the Dukes of Gloucester and Cumberland, are soon to be created staff officers on the Irish establishment.

Thursday 200 ship cannon, of different calibers, were sent down the river in lighters, to be put on board a transport vessel at Deptford, said to be intended for the use of the Corsicans.

A merchant at Leghorn has mentioned, in a letter to his correspondent in London, that General Paoli actually intended to set out on affairs of importance this summer for England.

The report of a fleet of men of war being soon to sail for the East Indies is premature, as no further expence will be heaped upon the public on the Company's account, till matters are finally accommodated between them and the government.

The monopolizing interests of an opulent company, are, we hear, deserted by many of those who were lately supposed to be their friends; yet the opinion prevails, that nothing will be effectually done in that respect this year.

The reigning Duke of Brunswick, and Prince Ferdinand, we hear, intends to pay a visit to the British Court before his Majesty's birth-day.

A scheme is said to be in agitation for removing the necessity of impressing seamen in any future war; and we hear, that the body of the nation, as in the militia bill, will be obliged to furnish a sufficient number of men for the public service; and that they, on whom the lot of service may fall, will be obliged to find substitutes, or go in person themselves.

April 21, and 23.

A manifesto, published by the general and supream council of state of the kingdom of Corsica, and dated the 27th of January last, concludes thus:

"The republic of Genoa, to whom our proposals * were transmitted by the French minister, looked upon them with horror, and rejected them with disdain; and once more the mediation of his most Christian Majesty hath turned out to be fruitless and ineffectual.

"We have thought it our duty, beloved people, to give an account of the motives, and of the event of this negotiation, to the end that we might make known to you, and to all the world, our sincere dispotions to end the war by means of an honourable and stable accommodation, in conformity with the generous intentions of his most Christian Majesty; and that we might make known the constant and obstinate resolution of the republic, to eternise this war, without any hope whatever of a good conclusion, and with the sole view of shedding human blood from a fit of hatred and revenge. From the long experience of thirty-seven years, she ought to be persuaded and convinced, that she has not force sufficient to subject us again to her dominion; and that we are more than ever firm and resolved to maintain, whatever it may cost, the rights of our antient liberty, which we have recovered with the effusion of so much blood.

"Perhaps the republic may flatter herself, that she will be able to excite anew, amongst us, and in the internal part of this kingdom, the spirit of discord and sedition, and so avail herself of our divisions. But besides the security which we have of the usual zeal of our people, and of their constant anxiety to sustain the common cause, we have, in the assembly of the grand council of the nation, been careful to take the most efficacious measures to prevent and render vain these pernicious designs of our enemies. And to this purpose, we are also to send the most exact instructions to all our magistrates, to the end that they may watch with all possible attention over the internal tranquility and security of the kingdom, and may also confirm still more the good understanding and harmony which actually subsists between us and the French troops; continuing to shew them every mark of attention, and doing every thing that can contribute to their ease and conveniency; so that we may give the lie to the false and artificial reports, which have been lately circulated by the emissaries of the republic, who have given it out, that a rupture is immediately to follow between us and these troops, who have orders, as they represent, to proceed to hostilities against us, in case that all hopes of an accommodation with Genoa are at an end. Whereas, on the contrary, we have the most certain proof of the impartiality of his most Christian Majesty, and of his royal satisfaction with the opening given by us to the happy conclusion of a treaty.

"In order then to undeceive our enemies, in their vain hopes, of being capable to maintain the sovereignty of this kingdom, and to make them repent of their having neglected this opening for peace, it is necessary to put ourselves immediately in condition to renew the war with greater warmth, at the termination of the four years fixed for the residence of the French troops in Corsica. This, beloved people, is the primary and important object which will occupy the conferences of the ordinary general consulta, in the approaching month of May. To this end then we give you notice, and we seriously charge you to elect as your procurators and representatives in this general consulta, persons endowed with zeal and with love for their country, that, with unanimous consent, and with the greatest efficacy, we may choose and determine upon the measures most proper for continuing with ardour the war, in the security that it will end with a happy success, and with a total expulsion of our enemies from the kingdom. The good cause which we sustain, the weakness of our enemies, our courage, animated with the love of our country, and, above all, the divine assistance, which has ever so sensiby manifested itself for us, give us an assurance of every good end to our enterprizes."

* The substance of their proposals was, "That the Corsican Nation should never accept of any proposals of peace with the republic of Genoa, if she does not agree, as preliminary conditions, to acknowledge our liberty, and the independency of our government; and doth not yield to us the few places in the kingdom of which she is still in possession.

April 25, and 28.

On Thursday two sloops of war and three cutters were put in commission, to be fitted out at Chatham and Sheerness with all expedition, for the African station.

Her Majesty is slightly indisposed, on which account their Majesties did not go yesterday to Richmond.

It is reported, that one particular great man has this week won upwards of 20,000 l. by betting upon his own horse; which (contrary to the most knowing-ones opinions) gained one of the prizes at New-market races, and that another nobleman lost 14,000 l. on the occasion.

Yesterday morning a private mass-house was suppressed in Black-Lion Court, St. Giles's, where a number of poor Irish people had assembled for their devotions: Two priests fled, and their hearers were dispersed without any tumult. It is said, in St. Giles's parish only, there are upwards of 20,000 papists.

It is said bills of exchange, to a very large amount, have this week been remitted here, the property of the Jesuits, to be invested in our funds, as the only country in the world where their property is thought by these fathers to be perfectly secure.

Yesterday his Excellency Count de Malzahn, the Prussian Ambassador, had a conference with Mr. Secretary Conway, on the subject of dispatches received from his court.

An eminent manufacturer at Birmingham has, within these few days, received a commission for a large quantity of musket barrels, locks, &c. to be finished with all expedition, for the service of the Corsicans.

We hear an authentic list of the number of men of war built in foreign countries, for the service of France, since the peace, distinguishing particulars, has actually been transmitted home to the ministry, by which it appears, that the marine of that kingdom has received a very considerable addition during the last three years.

CORK, April 30. Last Monday two companies of the 26th regiment of foot, destined for America, marched into this city.

Last Tuesday nine transport ships arrived in our harbour from London, to take the troops on board, destined for America, and three more are daily expected.

BOSTON, June 22.

Extract of a Letter from a Son of Liberty, now in London, to his Friend in New-England, dated the 11th of April, 1767.

THE House of Commons have appointed the first Thursday after the Holidays to enter upon the Consideration of American Affairs. New-York, it is said, will certainly receive some Chastisement, for refusing to billet the Troops: And Massachusetts Bay for their warm Addresses, Resolutions, &c. in their Squabbles with Governor B-----d. And many intend to have something done that may reach all the Colonies. The only Chance for us seems to be, that it is now so late in the Session, that they will hardly find Time to ripen any Plan replete with so much Difficulty and Delicacy, as they will find must attend any Measure they will choose to adopt."

Last Saturday se'nnight, about Noon, his Excellency JOHN WENTWORTH, Esq; arrived at Portsmouth, New-Hampshire, the Seat of his Government, after a long Journey through the Continent.

PROVIDENCE, June 20.

Extract of a Letter from a Gentleman at Monto-Christi, to his Friend in this Town, dated May 12, 1767.

"It is said there has been a Pirate standing off and on here for several Days, and has been in the Road, in order to decoy out some Vessel, under Pretence of going to Hananger, where he said he would load them very soon with Melasses; one Captain Wells, from Boston, has gone with him, and it is feared he will be robbed."

NEW-YORK, June 29.

It is said strict Orders are sent to the West-Indies, to observe and detect the New-England, New-York, and Philadelphia Captains of Vessels, in selling Hats of their respective Provinces, which is prohibited, under a very severe Penalty, on the Captain and all concerned in it, Complaint having been made at Home of great Quantities being sent from those Colonies, of the fine Beaver Kind, to the great Prejudice of the Beaver Hat Trade at Home.

The Sloop Dove, Capt. Bell, in 18 Days from St. Croix, on the 13th Instant, in Lat. 31, Long. 70, fell in with two French Ships, bound from Cape Francois to Old France, who fired a Shot at her, brought her to, and ordered her to send her Boat on board, but finding she did not readily obey, one of the Ships hoisted out her own Boat, and sent her on board the Sloop, with a Letter for a Merchant in this City, and after demanding of the Sloop the Lat. and Long. they were in, dismissed her to proceed on her Voyage.

The Nancy Graham, Blackwell, is arrived at Hampton in Virginia, in 6 Weeks from London: On his Passage, he spoke with the Schooner Sally, of Philadelphia, William Taylor, Master, bound for Portsmouth, from Senegal, as an Express from the Governor of that Place. Captain Taylor had met with very stormy Weather, in which his Mate was washed overboard, and lost.

PHILADELPHIA, July 2.

On Thursday last died of a lingering Illness, BENJAMIN SHOEMAKER, Esq; whose domestic and social Virtues endeared him to his Family, his Relations, and his Friends. He was a Member of the Governor's Council, one of the eldest Aldermen, and had been frequently Mayor of the City; in which Stations he acted with a becoming Dignity, with Judgment, Firmness and Integrity. During our Party Contentions his Opinion was his own. He was a good Citizen, a worthy and useful Member of Society, and his Death is justly lamented by the Public.

On Friday last died here, in the 64th Year of his Age, after a short Illness, JOHN BEVERIDGE, A. M. Professor of Languages, and principal Master of the GRAMMAR SCHOOL in the COLLEGE of PHILADELPHIA; and the next Day his Remains were interred. About One Hundred and Fifty of the Students and Scholars walked before his Corpse to the Grave; his Pall was supported by the Provost, Vice-Provost, and four of the Professors; the Trustees, and several of the senior Members of the College, followed as Mourners, and the Procession was closed by many of the Gentlemen of the City. Mr. BEVERIDGE had been a diligent and successful Teacher in the learned Languages for upwards of forty Years in Great-Britain and America; and was justly esteemed by Men of Learning in both Countries for his critical and profound Knowledge, as well as elegant Compositions, in the LATIN TONGUE. His Death is a considerable Loss to the Republic of Letters, and a very particular one to the Seminary whereof he was a Member.

 Any Gentleman who thinks himself qualified to supply Mr. BEVERIDGE's Place, as Professor of GREEK and LATIN in the College of this City, will be treated with, on Application to the Trustees.

By Captain Simmonds, from Lisbon, we learn, that a Brig bound from North-Carolina for Bristol, had put in there in Distress, having lost her Mainmast, Foretopmast, and Boltsprit, in a Gale of Wind; during the Gale the Mate, and two Seamen, were washed overboard, and drowned. And that Captain Roach, in a Ship from the Grenades for London, had also put into Lisbon twice, having sprung a Leak, and damaged his Cargoe of Sugars.----On the 13th of last Month, in Lat. 35, Long. 68, Captain Simmonds saw a great Quantity of Staves floating in the Sea, which seemed not to have been long in the Water. And on the 23d, in Lat 37: 30, Long. 72, he spoke with Captain Kerlin, in a Sloop, bound to Virginia from St. Christophers, out 16 Days, all well.

Since our last the Schooner Susannah, Captain Nelmes, arrived here from Turks Island; on the 16th ult. about 25 Leagues S. E. from Cape-Hatteras, in a Thunder Gust, the Lightning struck the Head of his Foremast, and split it all the Way down to the Deck in an extraordinary Manner, but providentially he received no other Damage.

Sunday last Captain Lawrence arrived here in 15 Days from St. Christophers; he sailed in Company with two Schooners, bound to Maryland, a Sloop for New-Haven, another for Boston, and a Brigantine, Captain Briggs, for Rhode-Island, but left them the Day after he came out.----On the 19th ult. in Lat. 28, Long. 67, he spoke a Schooner, Captain Bears, from Martinico for Rhode-Island, 7 Days out. And on the 22d, in Lat. 30: 24, Long. 68: 13, he spoke a Ship, Captain Davis, belonging to Ipswich, in New-England, bound for London from Jamaica, out 4 Weeks, all well.

Captain Potts, in the Snow King George, is arrived at Gibraltar from this Port, after a disagreeable Passage of continual hard Gales of Wind, in which his Vessel sprung a Leak, and he was obliged to throw Part of his Cargoe overboard.

Captain Russell, from the Musquito Shore, on the 14th of last Month, spoke a French built Snow from Jamaica for this Port, but did not learn the Master's Name.

Arrived at Antigua. Captains Hunley, Russell, Buffington, Rothery, Thomas, and Blin, from Virginia; Captain Hitch, from Maryland; Captain Martin, from New-York; Captain Russell, from New-Haven; Captains Willasd and Saltonstall, from New-London; and the Captains Richardson and M'Cormic, from North-Carolina.

At Barbados. Captain Whitlock, from South-Carolina; Captains Monk and Blackburn, from North-Carolina; Captains Riker, Edey, Gregory, Tilledge, and Robertson, from Virginia; Captain Townsend, from Maryland; Captain Hosier, from Burlington; Captain Warren, from Rhode-Island; Captains Grow, and Duckett, from Piscataqua; Captains Nicholson and Grifte, from Marblehead; and Captains Leffingwell, Starr, and Williams, from New-London.

From Philadelphia. Captain Gregory, at St. Christophers.

On Saturday Night last, some Villains got into the Cabin of the Sloop Lovitt, Captain Smith, lying at a Wharff near the Drawbridge, while the Captain and People were asleep, when they opened the Captain's Chest, and took out a small gilt Trunk, containing upwards of Three Hundred Pounds in Cash, and several of his Papers; and on Monday a Man was committed to Goal, on Suspicion of being concerned in the Robbery.

And on Sunday Night, between Nine and Ten o'Clock, a Store in Chestnut-street was broke open, and robbed of near Sixty Pounds in Cash; the next Morning a Lad in that Neighbourhood was taken up and committed to Goal for the same, having, on his Examination, confessed the Fact, and where he had concealed the Money.

A few Days ago the dead Body of a Sailor was taken up near one of the Wharffs in this City.

On Tuesday Night, about Eleven o'Clock, a House in Race-street, adjoining the Moravian Meeting, was greatly damaged by Lightning; it first struck the Chimney, the Top of which it burst; then shattered the Roof, and descending by the Wall, tore the Cielings and Wainscotting, in every Story to the Ground Floor, in a most surprising Manner; ripped up the Floors, and broke the Windows all to Pieces.------The Goodness of Providence was remarkably shewn in the Preservation of the Family, who were in Bed in the Rooms, close by where the Lightning passed, but did not receive the least Hurt.

 The CONTRIBUTORS of the Sea Captains Club, are desired to attend their Quarterly Meeting on Monday, the Sixth Instant, at the London Coffee-House, at Six o' Clock in the Evening.

To the PRINTERS.

GENTLEMEN,

The Mal-treatment, Obloquy, and unmerited Abuse, which the Stage has met with from the late Publications against it, give me the more Reason to expect you will not refuse indulging me a few Words in its Favour; it will be but doing that Justice which is absolutely requisite for the right understanding of an Affair, wherein two opposite Parties are concerned; a Conduct agreeable to that Impartiality, for which your Paper has ever been conspicuous.

THE Theatre has been represented as a public Nuisance, the Corrupter of the People's Morals, and a School of Debauchery; the Actors, as a Sett of Vagrants; and the Encouragers of them, as the lighteſt, vaineſt and moſt contemptible Part of Mankind. It has been insinuated, that the whole Tendency of Theatrical Entertainments is pernicious to the Commonwealth, by introducing Effeminacy, Luxury, Idleness, Beggary, and of Consequence Slavery.-----How unjust these Representations are, how stupid and ignorant the Advancers of such dull Notions must be, and how unacquainted with what constitutes the Happiness and innocent Amusement of no small Part of the human Race, will easily appear to every one, the least conversant with the Nature of our Dramatic Compositions; with the salutary Effects which the Stage has always produced in preceding Times, wherever it was most encouraged; and above all, with the virtuous and exemplary Lives of the Players themselves.

The universal Applause with which the Exhibitions of the Stage have always been received, not only by the most Sensible and Polite, but by the greatest Personages, is a clear Proof of its extraordinary Utility to the Public; the pious, sober and chaste Morals, the honourable Lives of Players, Jesters and Buffoons, in all Ages, most evidently demonstrate the great Advantage of Plays, and their good Influence on private Conduct. ------Can there be a surer Indication of real Benefit arising from any Cause, than the excellent Qualities, and exceeding Usefulness in Society, which the most assiduous Frequenters of the Playhouse, by incontestible Experience, and the concurrent Voice of all impartial Observers, derive from thence to their Country? than the amazing Improvement, and laudable Acquirements, which are conspicuous in every Part of the Behaviour of its Pupils, after a sufficient Time of Attendance at that School of Virtue and Knowledge? which to denominate the Place of Amusement only, would be a very depreciating Appellation, and a plain Contradiction to that most obvious and notorious Alteration which it operates on the Minds and Manners of its constant Attendants; "Discunt facere dum assuescunt videre;" a Place highly worthy of Protection, for the Preservation of Modesty and Chastity, according to the glorious Example of that great Promoter of good Government, and the People's real Interest, the ever honourable, prudent and beneficent Emperor Nero, who encouraged the Theatre, not only with his Presence, Authority, and various other Methods, more zealously than any other Prince in History, but even protected it with a GUARD of SOLDIERS.

As it is notorious that in the Generality of our Plays, the Characters which are exhibited in the most engaging Light, and take up the greatest Part in each Performance, are the most chaste, pious, modest and virtuous, they must, from their own Nature, have a very desirable Influence on the Minds of the Spectators, not only by inculcating the excellent Qualifications which distinguish and dignify every accomplished Player above other People, but by instilling those Virtues of Temperance, Frugality and Industry, so absolutely necessary for the Prosperity and Happiness of a young Country. A vicious or immodest Representation is scarce ever suffered to appear, nor an Example of Extravagance permitted to entertain the People; unless it be with a Design to teach Virtue, Modesty and Moderation: For the exceeding great Advantage that arises from an Intimacy and perfect Knowledge of Vice, is too manifest to need insisting on; this, that grand Proficient in the tempting Art, the Devil, in Milton's Paradise Lost, seems to have been well acquainted with, whose Experience in EVIL gave him such a Superiority over the Angel Gabriel, who only knew GOOD, as sufficiently demonstrates the great Importance of that profitable Science. Probably there may be one or two excepted from among our modern Dramatic Pieces, which therefore are seldom or never admitted upon the Stage, as not so well suiting the Taste of a Theatrical Audience as the rest; and notwithstanding the Tragedy of Cato may, perhaps, come first under this Exception, yet several Places are conspicuous in that Composition; more particularly the Example of the Hero Cato himſelf, which is a moſt ſhining Pattern of the laudable Action of Self-murder, propoſed for the Imitation of all pious Chriſtians, and Perſons of ſound Underſtandings; I ſay, though this Play be ſo replete with the unfaſhionable and leſs uſeful Sentiments of obſolete Patriotiſm, yet it is obſerved, from ſeveral well known Inſtances, to have had a very good Effect in England, by inculcating the honourable Practice of Suicide.----- But the agreeable Amuſement, Inſtruction and Improvement, which are received from the Generality of theſe Exhibitions, are much ſuperior, and very different from this:------They are ſo little known to many who, through a fooliſh Obſtinacy, and gloomy Turn of Mind, will ſcarce read, much leſs attend them, that I have ventured to extract a few ſhort Sentences, as a Specimen, for the Good of the Public; they are taken from a polite Entertainment, called The Lying Valet; which for its amiable Characters, Elegancy of Stile, ſublime Expreſſions, and good Senſe, has met with ſo much Approbation from many of the Quality of this City, by being repeatedly performed before them, as to do Honour to their Dramatic Taſte and good Judgment. If I was to tranſcribe all the inſtructive Sentences, moral Precepts, chaſte Sentiments, and fine Language, remarkable in our common Stage-Compoſitions, as they are acted at the Play-houſe, I might fill a News Paper with them every Week; but, as I ſhould be very ſorry, if the Public ſhould be altogether deprived of the great Benefit, which is received from them only by a few at the Theatre, ſo I have been as ſhort as poſſible in my Extract, that I might not crowd your Paper too much with one Thing, though never ſo uſeful to be known, viz.

Gayleſs. Oh the Devil; what a Queſtion was that?
Sharp. The Devil it is!
Sharp. O curſe your Conſcience.
Gayleſs. Curſed Misfortune, what can we do?
Sharp. Hang ourſelves, I ſee no other Remedy.
Sharp. ---------- Why, I told her, I was ſure ſhe lyed; for, Zounds! ſaid I (for I could not help ſwearing) I am ſo well convinced of the Lady's and my Maſter's Prudence, that I am ſure, had they a Mind to amuſe themſelves, they would certainly have drawn the Window Curtains.
Sharp. I made a full Confeſſion that my Maſter loved Fornication; that you had no Averſion to it; that Mrs. Kitty was a Bawd, and your humble Servant a Pimp.
Sharp. Oh the Devil! ruined again.
Sharp. Oh the Delights of Impudence, and a good Underſtanding!
Gayleſs. Hell and Confuſion, have you betrayed me, Villain!
Sharp. The Devil ſhe is------I wiſh I could poiſon her; for I am ſure, while ſhe lives, I can never proſper.
Sharp. I'll pick his Pocket, and provide me a Supper with the Booty. If he wakes, I'll ſmother him, and lay his Death to Indigeſtion.
Sharp to Fortune.------Now is your Time to convince your Foes that you are not that blind whimſical Whore they take you for, &c. ſo much for Prayer, now for a great Noiſe, and a Lye.
Guttle. ------- Zounds, I was afraid you had throwed the Supper down--------a Plague of your Noiſe, I ſhan't recover my Stomach this Half Hour.
Meliſſa. What, ſhe drinks too?
Sharp. Damnably, Sir, but Mum, &c.
Sharp. O, the Devil!
Meliſſa. Damn the Raſcal! what does he mean by affronting me!------let the Scoundrel go, I'll poliſh his Brutality, I warrant you; here's the beſt Reformer of Manners in the Univerſe (draws his Sword) &c.
Cook. Eat me! He'll find me damn'd hard of Digeſtion though.------
Meliſſa. -------- Sir, breaking off Contracts, ſuing for Divorces, committing Adultery, and ſuch like, are all reckoned Trifles now a Days; and ſmart young Fellows, like you and myſelf, Gayleſs, ſhould never be out of Faſhion.
Meliſſa. Damme, Sir, I ſhall be through your Body elſe in the Snapping of a Finger.

I ſhall only beg Leave further to obſerve, that the Event of this polite Entertainment, wherein ſo many Truths are expreſſed, and ſo much fine Language inculcated into the Minds of the Audience, is, far beyond Expectation, happy to the Parties concerned; their Sincerity, Chaſtity and Virtue, are crowned with Succeſs; a proper Diſcouragement to every Spectator to purſue a contrary Conduct, and to live a vicious and an abandoned Life; a ſtriking Inſtance of the Nature of Plays, and of their great Uſe in the Repreſentations of virtuous and chaſte Characters, which, as before hinted, obtain by much the principal Place in the Generality of our modern Exhibitions; in order to deter Rakes, Knaves, Villains and ill Perſons of both Sexes from ſucceeding in their Deſigns; this they perform the more effectually, as all the Force of Art and Fiction are added to heighten them, and to fix the amiable Ideas deeper in the Memory, than any real Character of itſelf could poſſibly do, which would be of much leſs Service, and have no further Influence, than only what Mr. Pope deſcribes in the following Lines.

Fame but from Death a Villain's Name can ſave;
As Juſtice tears his Body from the Grave:
When what t'Oblivion better were reſign'd,
Is hung on high, to poiſon half Mankind.

THEATRICUS.

P. S. In Confirmation of the Truth of what I have advanced, concerning the great Utility of the Stage, indicated by its Aſcendency over all Oppoſition, I ſhall add a ſhort Confeſſion, even of one of its Adverſaries, Sir RICHARD BLACKMORE, viz.

"-----Though ſeveral Aſſaults have been made upon the Comic Poets in Faſhion, and many Batteries have been raiſed againſt the Theatre, yet hitherto they have proved unſucceſsful; the Stage is become impregnable, where looſe Poets, ſupported by Numbers, Power and Intereſt, in Defiance of all Rules of Decency and Virtue, ſtill provide new Snares and Temptations to ſeduce the People, and corrupt their Manners. Notwithſtanding the earneſt Cries of this great City, that importune theſe Writers to reform the Theatre, and no longer to infeſt her Youth, and draw their Inclinations from their Profeſſions and Employments; notwithſtanding the Sighs and Tears of many once flouriſhing, but now diſconſolate Families, ruined by the diſſolute Lives of their chief Branches, who loſt their Virtue by frequenting the fatal Entertainments of the Theatre; notwithſtanding the wiſe and ſober Part of the Kingdom earneſtly ſollicit them to ſpare the People, to ſtop the ſpreading Plague, and ſtay the deſtroying Pen, they perſevere with intrepid Reſolution, and inexorable Cruelty, to poiſon the Minds, and ruin the Morals of the Nation."

The PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

Containing the Freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtic.

To the PUBLIC.

THE Committee of the Veſtry of Wicacoa, Kingceſſing, and Upper Merion, have ſeen Mr. Andrew Bankſon's ſecond Publication in the Chronicle, No. 23, which is of too frivolous a Nature to induce us to call the Veſtry together, at this buſy Seaſon of the Year. But whenever Affairs of more Importance ſhall require a Meeting, Mr. Bankſon may depend on having ſuch Extracts laid before the Public, from our Books and Records, as will ſufficiently ſhew what Regard he has had to Truth, in his State of the Diſpute between him and the Congregations, or, as he would have it called, between him and our Miniſter. In the mean time we are very glad to ſee Mr. Bankſon's Rage a little bridled, and that inſtead of plain Charles, he now vouchſafes to ſay Doctor; and has left ſuch Flowers of Speech, as vile, ſcandalous, malicious, wicked, and the like. We ſhall therefore, in tender Regard to Mr. Bankſon's Family, for which he pleads, diſmiſs him for the preſent, with only a few Remarks on his Piece.

In the firſt Place, we do not chooſe to take any Notice of his indecent Manner of mentioning Divine Providence, which all good Men believe to have ſome Influence on human Hearts, and human Events. We obſerve that Mr. Bankſon's Reſentment is ſo ſtrong againſt the Doctor, that it makes him quite forget what ſhould have been his principal Buſineſs, his own Vindication. He was told that the Veſtry had taken the Matter on themſelves, and had deſired their Miniſter to enter into no Altercations on the Subject, as it was their Cauſe, and their Rights, for which he was ſo groſly attacked; yet ſtill Mr. Bankſon calls on the Doctor afreſh. The Doctor has candidly acknowledged that he ſuſpected, and had Reaſon to complain of, Mr. Bankſon's Management of his Truſt, and that nothing can remove that Suſpicion, but his rendering to the Veſtry a juſt and full Account. Mr. Bankſon has not yet rendered that Account, and he ſays he is indifferent about what the Doctor ſuſpects, and yet he would ſtill have the Doctor to acquit him of all Suſpicions, even before a Settlement; nay, he ſays the Doctor promiſed to declare to every Body to whom he had inſinuated it, that his Suſpicions were groundleſs. But this could only be (if it had been promiſed) on Condition that Mr. Bankſon's Accounts ſhould appear juſt, on Examination by the Veſtry; for it would be very unreaſonable to ſuppoſe any thing elſe, unleſs the Doctor, in Complaiſance to Mr. Bankſon, would proſtitute his own Character, and give up the Rights of the Congregations.

Mr. Bankſon is pleaſed to conſider the Publication of the Minute of the Veſtry, as an Artifice of the Doctor's; or, in other Words, to call the Veſtry the Doctor's Tools. We are obliged to him for his kind Opinion; but he will perhaps find, before he has done with us, that we act for ourſelves, and will find Methods to oblige him to do Juſtice to the Congregations, by a fair State of his Accounts, rendered to thoſe who have the ſole Right to ſettle them. The flattering Name of Friends, which he beſtows on us at the ſame time, ſhall not, we hope, influence us in the Diſcharge of our Duty; as we know of no Ties of Friendſhip that ought to interfere with a publick Truſt.

The Suſpicions againſt Mr. Bankſon, are not the Doctor's alone, but the Veſtry have declared them to be theirs alſo; and we muſt return Mr. Bankſon's Compliment, and ſay, that his refuſing to anſwer the Veſtry, becauſe they are his Friends, is an Artifice to avoid anſwering us at all, and a Piece of Complaiſance, we do not deſire from him.

Mr. Bankſon ſeems angry, becauſe the Anſwer of the Veſtry was put on their Books. But we rejoice it was put there; for it is ſo ſtrong a Vindication of our Rights, and ſo full an Explanation of our Church Conſtitution, as well as our Reaſons for adopting it, that we hope it will be read and maintained by our Childrens Children, to lateſt Times. It was inſerted in our Veſtry Books with no View to injure Mr. Bankſon, or his Family, with Poſterity; but will rather redound to their Credit, if his Accounts are found juſt by the Veſtry, and a proper Minute of their Settlement made.

In a Word, we deſire Mr. Bankſon not to triſle with us, or evade the main Point in Queſtion. A Settlement by the Committee we conſider as no Settlement at all, till reported and approved by the Veſtry, who conſtituted that Committee. We call on Mr. Bankſon, therefore, and the Committee, to lay that Report, with the Accounts and Vouchers, before the Veſtry; and while he neglects or refuſes to do this Juſtice, we think the Public, as well as we, will have juſt Grounds for Suſpicions not very favourable to him. July 3, 1767.

By Captain Griffiths, arrived at Boston, in seven Weeks from Briſtol, we have the following Advices, viz.

M A D R I D, April 3.

THE whole city is in an uproar ſince Wedneſday laſt, when the Jeſuits were abruptly ſeized, and ſent off to different ports of the kingdom, to be embarked to Italy. All their treaſures, all their eſtates are declared confiſcated to the crown. The procurators, ſubſtitutes of theſe fathers, are ſtill ſtrictly guarded, and they will be compelled to give in a detail of all the poſſeſſions of the ſociety. Yeſterday the King's decree for the baniſhment of the Jeſuits was made public with the uſual formalities; and on the other hand the Pope's Nuncio diſpatched a courier to Rome, with this ſtriking news.

L O N D O N, April 27.

The late amiable Marquis of Taviſtock, as appears ſince his death, allowed a number of penſions, from five to fifteen pounds a year, to poor people in Bedfordſhire; the loſs of ſo beneficent a heart is therefore a public calamity in any country, eſpecially at a time when the beneficence of the great is ſo immediately neceſſary for the ſupport of the indigent.

The late Ducheſs of Argyle always deſired to be buried juſt in whatever things ſhe ſhould have on when ſhe died, and no other; theſe happened to be a ſhift and petticoat; and her Grace was alſo wrapped in half of a ſheet, the other moiety of which her noble conſort, the great Duke of Argyle, was interred in.

The late worthy Mr. Tonſon, the bookſeller, is ſaid to have died worth two hundred thouſand pounds, which he has left entirely to his brother, a few legacies excepted, which are inconſiderable, in ſo prodigious a fortune.

Yeſterday two large ſhips were taken up in the river, on government contract, to carry over artillery, troops and ſtores, for his Majeſty's ſettlements on the African coaſt.

Private letters from Madrid inform, that an advice boat had been ſent from Cadiz, with ſecret diſpatches for the viceroys of Mexico, Peru, and Chili, and the other Spaniſh Governors in South-America, and the Weſt-Indies, ſaid to be on affairs of importance relating to the Jeſuits.

They write from Cadiz, that an order has been received there for the equipment of a ſmall ſquadron, ſaid to be intended for an expedition to South-America, to deſtroy a certain ſea port which the Jeſuits of Paraguay had poſſeſſed themſelves of, between Cape St. Antonio and the river of Plate.

They write from Liverpool, that ſome opulent merchants of that town, are preparing to fit out a number of ſhips, to be employed this ſeaſon in the Greenland fiſhery.

April 28. Several of the foreign nobility and gentry, lately arrived here, we are aſſured, have beſpoke very rich ſuits of cloaths, which are now weaving in Spitalfields, to appear in at court on his Majeſty's birth day.

We hear that an extraordinary board of admiralty will be held this week, when, it is ſaid, ſeveral promotions among the flag officers will take place.

The officers on furlow, belonging to the garriſons of Gibraltar and Minorca, have had notice given them to join their reſpective regiments with all expedition.

We hear from Glaſgow, that ſome fiſhermen lately dug up, on the iſland of St. Kilda, two antique urns, containing a quantity of Daniſh ſilver coin, which by the inſcription appears to have lain there upwards of 18 hundred years.

We are credibly informed, that the vigilance of Admiral Palliſer, during his ſtation laſt year at Newfoundland, has utterly diſconcerted the views of the French in their attempts to carry on any future clandeſtine trade with the Engliſh; ſeveral of their Fiſhermen, who carried out little or no proviſion for the voyage, in hopes of being ſupplied in exchange for brandies and European goods, having been obliged to quit the coaſt before the ſeaſon was half expired.

We hear that French louis d'ors never were ſo plenty at New-market as at preſent, to the agreeable ſurprize of all the gentlemen of the Turf.

The Yorkſhire club, who laſt year were taken in at New-market, have, it is ſaid, this year availed themſelves 10,900 l. on Bay Malton.

A butcher in a market in the weſt of the metropolis, has won 7000 l. by the great horſe-race at New-market laſt Tueſday.

A waiter at a coffee-houſe at the weſt end of the town loſt 400 guineas laſt Tueſday, by betting at New-market races.

A noble Lord, we hear, will ſhortly take a tour to the continent, and ſtay abroad till he has recovered his loſſes at the preſent New-market meeting, by a prudent obſervance of œconomy.

We hear that 1200 guineas were offered laſt New-market meeting for the famous horſe Bay Malton, the property of the Marquis of Rockingham, and refuſed.

It is ſaid Bay Malton will run no more, but be allowed to finiſh his days at eaſe, as he has never yet been beaten.

We hear a great number of foreign Jeſuits, who are poſſeſſed of immenſe wealth, have a deſign to lay aſide their eccleſiaſtical function and character intirely, in order to come and ſettle in Great-Britain as merchants, where they intend to get themſelves naturalized; for which privilege, it is ſaid, they are willing to pay a large ſum to the government, which they intend to petition for that purpoſe.

Extract of a letter from Madrid, April 2.

"Two Jeſuits arrived here lately from Paraguay; one of them was the Governor, and the other Chief Juſtice of one of the principal provinces. Upon their arrival they requeſted the neceſſary paſſes to convey them to Rome; which were readily granted, with expreſs orders to the officers not to ſearch or examine any part of their baggage. The Jeſuits placed ſo much confidence in the orders given, that without the leaſt fear they proceeded on their journey to Catalonia, where they intended to embark; but ſcarcely were they arrived there before their perſons and baggage were all ſeized. Upon opening their baggage, there were found 260 heavy ingots of gold, 13 large boxes, filled with diamonds, and other precious ſtones, and bills of exchange for three millions, payable at Rome."

April 30. Trade is brought to ſo low an ebb at Liſbon, that the Cuſtom-houſe duties for the month of February, did not exceed four hundred moidores.

We are adviſed from Cork, that 2000 tons of Iriſh ſalt proviſions are now ſhipping there, on board ſome foreign tranſports, for the iſland of Coracoa, St. Euſtatia, and St. Croix, in the Weſt Indies.

A private letter from Bengal ſays, that Lord Clive had many private enemies, occaſioned by diſcharging various perſons from their ſeveral departments, and (as many think) too partially promoting the intereſt of thoſe whom he chooſes to provide for; that he had prodigiouſly lowered the incomes of the officers in the army and other ſtations; that he was ſecretly fired at, but the bullet luckily miſſed him, and the Aſſaſſin remained undiſcovered.

The port and town of Savanna La Mar (the ſecond principal port and town) in Jamaica, having greatly increaſed in trade and inhabitants for many years paſt, and being now open as a free port of trade to all nations, the Lords of the treaſury have, in conſequence thereof, appointed a Collector of the cuſtoms there, inſtead of a Naval-officer and others, who formerly had the management of the revenue buſineſs at that place, and alſo a Surveyor, Searchers, and Land-waiters, in conjunction, under the ſaid Collector.

Yeſterday there was a very numerous levee at St. James's, and afterwards a council, at which the Lord Chancellor aſſiſted.

The Right Hon. George Grenville, was at the levee, and it is ſaid ſome changes in the miniſtry will take place in a few days.

The Houſe of Commons was very full yeſterday, and ſat late.

This morning the Right Hon. the Earl of Chatham had the honour of a private conference with his Majeſty for upwards of an hour.

It is ſaid that yeſterday ſome petitions were preſented to the Board of Trade and Plantations, by the colony Agents, for obtaining a bounty of forty ſhillings per ton on ſhipping, employed in the American whale fiſhery.

C H A R L E S T O W N (South-Carolina) May 22.

Advices from the Creek nation, juſt come to hand, tell us, that a party, conſiſting of eighty of thoſe Indians, belonging to the upper towns, was returned from war againſt the Choctaws, two of the party being wounded. They came up with and ſurrounded twenty-five Choctaws, ten of whom they killed, and brought in their ſcalps, together with one priſoner, whom, the next day after their arrival, they put to death, by torturing him in the moſt cruel manner. The unfortunate victim was the brother of the chief or head king of the Choctaws.

While our copper coloured allies are exhibiting ſuch ſcenes of ravage, murder, and bloodſhed, and giving every day new proofs of their inveteracy and rancour to each other, it muſt afford ſincere pleaſure to all friends of their King and country to learn, that in no period have the Indian nations in general more ſedulouſly courted the friendſhip and protection of Great-Britain, than for ſome conſiderable time paſt.

June 5. On Saturday the commiſſioners of pilotage laid the firſt ſtone of the new beacon, or light-houſe, on Middle-bay-iſland, near the bar.

A letter from Penſacola, dated May 2, ſays, "Major Chiſolme with the 21ſt regiment arrived here from Mobille the 13th paſt, by orders of Brigadier Haldiman, to aſſiſt in carrying on the works, viz. chiefly enlarging the fort, building ſtore-houſes, pulling down, without reſpect to perſons, whatever may in the leaſt obſtruct a free paſſage of air to the ſoldiers barracks, and incloſing the ſquare with a ſtrong regular ſtockade, leaving only two ports, one at the eaſt ſide, the other at the weſt, each guarded by two pieces of cannon, and it is ſaid, when finiſhed, will have each a ſerjeant's guard. The General propoſes likewiſe to viſit all the out poſts, and to put them in a proper ſtate of defence."

By ſome gentlemen returned from the weſtern frontiers, we are informed, that the honourable John Stuart, Eſq; ſuperintendant of Indian affairs in the ſouthern diſtrict of North-America, went from Auguſta with a great number of gentlemen, and attendants, to Hard-labour, near Ninety-ſix, where about 300 Cherokee Indians were waiting for him; every thing was conducted and finiſhed to general ſatisfaction, and Ouconoſtato, or the great warrior, with fifteen other headmen of that nation, and the faithful Attakullakulla, inſiſted on attending his honour as a guard-du-corps to Auguſta, where the laſt advices inform us he was ſafe arrived, and holding a congreſs with the headmen of the upper and lower Creeks, who were come thither with Mr. Commiſſary Mackintoſh.

Yeſterday arrived here from London, the celebrated Sophia Hume, one of the people called Quakers.

Rice now ſells at Three Pounds currency the 100 lb. The quantity of that grain, entered for exportation at this port ſince 31ſt October, when the firſt veſſel with rice, of crop 1766, was cleared out, is eighty ſix thouſand one hundred and ſixty nine barrels.

June 12. On the 21ſt ult. Governor Tryon (of North-Carolina) received diſpatches from the Superintendant, informing him, that Mr. Commiſſary Cameron, with the Cherokee headmen, were to ſet out next day, in order to meet him, and proceed to run the boundary line; and accordingly his Excellency, and the gentlemen with him, the ſame day left Saliſbury; ſo that in a little time we hope to have accounts of this very important buſineſs being happily compleated.

A letter from Savannah, in Georgia, dated the 4th inſtant, ſays, "We have an account from the Creek country, of the murder of a packhorſeman. The principal Indians, at a meeting with the Superintendant at Auguſta, diſclaimed it, and ſaid the perpetrator was an outlawed villain; they appeared very ſorry on the occaſion, and willing to give any ſatisfaction. The Superintendant has ſettled the prices of goods, to the ſatisfaction of both Creeks and Cherokees, who all ſeemed heartily diſpoſed to peace: One of the ſtipulations he has now made with them is, that they ſhall deliver up all run-away Negroes that take ſhelter in their country, which will be of great advantage to all the ſouthern colonies."

They write from Weſt Florida, of the 18th ult. that proviſions of all kinds were exceſſively ſcarce, both at Mobille and Penſacola, the troops were all put to allowance, and if ſome proviſion veſſels did not ſoon arrive, the conſequences would be dreadful. They had nothing left but a few barrels of rice, which ſold at 25 and 26 dollars. It would appear, the immenſe profits expected at the markets in the Mediterranean, have drawn all the New-Yorkers, Philadelphia-men, &c. that way, whereby the Weſt-Floridans have been left without a barrel of flour, though they have plenty of dollars to purchaſe it with.

June 19. On Monday laſt the honourable John Stuart, Eſq; ſuperintendant of the ſouthern diſtrict of America, returned here from the weſtern frontiers, where he has been for ſome months paſt, holding congreſſes with the Creeks and Cherokees, and tranſacting other buſineſs of importance in his department. The conferences with the Indians were very friendly; tarifs were ſettled and agreed upon, to the ſatisfaction of the ſeveral tribes and their traders, and the commerce put under proper regulations. It has been already mentioned, that Mr. Commiſſary Cameron, and the Cherokee headmen, were ſet out to meet his excellency Governor Tryon, in order to run the boundary line behind North-Carolina, and we have now the pleaſure of informing the public, that the lower Creeks have engaged to the ſuperintendant, that they will ſend deputies to Auguſta before the end of September, to perform the like ſervice behind Georgia and Eaſt-Florida, which done, the exact limits between the Indian hunting-grounds, and all the ſouthern provinces, except Virginia, will be fixed and determined. The murder of the packhorſeman happened at the town of Hillabies, in the upper Creek country; the people of thoſe towns gave the ſuperintendant the ſtrongeſt aſſurances of ſatisfaction; the accounts of that murder, which reached the Mortar, when on his way to Auguſta to aſſiſt at the congreſs, occaſioned his returning home immediately.

Attakullakulla, and the other Cherokee deputies, have put off their intended voyage to New-York till the enſuing fall.

On Tueſday laſt came on, in his Majeſty's high court of vice admiralty, before the hon. Egerton Leigh, Eſq; ſole judge of the ſame, a cauſe of great weight and expectation, wherein James Hawker, Eſq; commander of his Majeſty's ſhip Sardine, was proſecutor qui tam, &c. againſt the ſchooner Active, and her cargoe, whereof James Gordon, of Winyaw, merchant, was claimant. The ſeizure of this coaſting ſchooner was made, on pretence that ſhe had no regiſter, and bond not having been given, nor cockets and ſufferances taken out from the Cuſtom-houſe, agreeable to the directions of the act of 7th and 8th of William III. and of the acts of the 3d and 4th, and 5th and 6th of his preſent Majeſty's reign; when the judge, after hearing many learned arguments from the proctors and advocates on both ſides, and taking due time to deliberate thereon, was pleaſed to deliver his opinion, "That nothing in the ſeveral acts above mentioned, can be conſtrued "to lay any unneceſſary reſtraints upon the trade and correſpondence of "his Majeſty's American ſubjects, when any goods or commodities "are carried merely for the uſe or ſuſtenance of the ſaid colonies; or, "in other words, when ſuch goods are carried only from one port "or place to another port or place in the ſame colony." And, foraſmuch as it did appear that the veſſel in queſtion had been conſtantly employed within this province, without putting out to ſea, further than her burthen, or the coaſt, made neceſſary for the ſafety of her navigation to and from this port, and there was not the leaſt ſhadow of pretence that the ſaid veſſel had been at any time employed in an illicit trade, or that any fraud had been committed or intended, whereby his Majeſty's revenue could be diminiſhed or affected, or the fair trader undermined or prejudiced, contrary to any of the wiſe proviſions of any revenue laws, or the laws of the cuſtoms; his honour was pleaſed therefore to diſmiſs the information, and to order reſtitution of the veſſel and cargoe to the claimant, and decreed the claimant to pay all coſts, except ſuch as accrued to the proſecutor on his part of the proceedings, the judge being of opinion that, all circumſtances conſidered, there was a probable cauſe of ſeizure, and the moſt material part of the expence attending the proſecution was occaſioned by the claimant himſelf.

At every ſitting of the court during the continuance of this cauſe, which was long, and highly conteſted, the court-houſe was conſtantly crowded; the judge's final ſentence and decree was received with the common and general ſatisfaction; it being from thence apparent, that no veſſels whatever, when employed in carrying goods from one part of the province to another, are obliged to take out ſufferances, cockets, or clearances at the cuſtom-houſe; nor have veſſels, employed ſolely in that trade, or that never go to another colony, any occaſion for a regiſter, they being particularly excepted in the 7th and 8th of William III.

June 26. They write from Penſacola, that a reinforcement of Spaniſh troops was arrived at New-Orleans, part whereof, with a convoy of proviſions, and a great many preſents for the Indians, was gone up the Miſſiſippi, to take poſſeſſion of the territories, on the weſtern ſide of that river, ceded to Spain.----The French government ſtill continues at New-Orleans.

Extract of a letter from London, April 18.

"The oppoſition has received a conſiderable check by the death of a moſt amiable young nobleman, the Marquis of Taviſtock, which has ſo affected his father, the Duke of Bedford, that he avoids all publick buſineſs. Lord Chatham keeps his ground. The ſtate of American affairs is to be taken under conſideration by the houſe of commons on the 30th inſtant, both houſes being adjourned, for the holidays, to the 28th, and immediately after, the Eaſt-India affairs come on."

A number of the Iriſh ſettlers lately arrived here, being ſickly, a ſubſcription was opened for their relief, when, according to the wonted benevolence and charity of the inhabitants of this town, near two hundred pounds ſterling was almoſt immediately raiſed.

We are informed, that ſince Mr. Seymour's arrival at Turk's-Iſland, a conſiderable vent is found there for Britiſh and American manufactures with foreigners.

N E W - Y O R K, July 2.

Monday laſt arrived here the Ship Frances, Captain Inglis, in 9 Weeks from Cadiz; on the 9th of June, in Lat. 38, Long. 59, ſpoke with the Ship Carolina, Captain Friend, from Philadelphia for London; and on the 16th of June, in Lat. 39: 50, Long. 62, ſpoke with Captain Huie, and Captain Gibſon, both Ships from Potowmack River for Glaſgow.---Captain Inglis confirms the Account given in the Papers of the Expulſion of the Jeſuits from Spain; and that a great Number of them were embarking at Cadiz for Civita Vecchia, in the Pope's Dominions. He heard no Talk of the Manilla Ranſom at Cadiz, but ſays the Æolus Frigate ſailed from thence for England, a few Days before he left it, with a great Quantity of Caſh on board, on Account of the Merchants; and the Aquilon was to ſail in a few Days after him, with ſome of the ſame Commodity on board for Italy.

Captain Baldwin, from Barbados, but laſt from Connecticut, left that Iſland about 35 Days ago, and acquaints us, that ſuch a general Drought has prevailed there this laſt Seaſon, that few of the Planters will have more than half Crops, and many Pieces of Cane not worth cutting at all.

July 6. Captain Campbell, from Liverpool, ſpoke with the following Veſſels, viz. The 24th of May, in Lat. 49: 45, Long. 26: 21, with the Brig Polly, Captain Fenton, from this Port for Amſterdam; the 7th of June, in Lat. 40: 7, Long. 41: 30, with two Dutch Eaſt-Indiamen from Bengal, for Amſterdam; the next Day, in Lat. 39: 29, Long. 42: 20, with Captain Wilſon, in a Cutter from Liverpool, but laſt from the Iſle of Man, for Boſton; and on the 22d ult. with Captain Tingley, in the Schooner Olive Branch, from this Port, for Briſtol, 6 Days out, all well.

Captain Curtis, in two Months from Briſtol, ſpoke with the following Veſſels on his Paſſage, viz. The 19th of June, in Lat. 44: 28, with a Schooner from Piſcataqua, for the Banks; the 28th, in Lat. 39: 37, with a Sloop from New-York, for the Gut of Canſo; the Day following, in Lat. 39: 38, with a Sloop from Antigua for New-London; and on the 30th ult. in Lat. 39: 50, with the Brig Iſabella, from New-London, for St. Euſtatia, all well on board each Veſſel, but did not learn either of the Captains Names.

The Brig Speedwell, John Palmer, Maſter; the Williams, David Loudon, Maſter; the Brig Boſcawen, George Marſhall, Maſter; Ship Newry-Packet, Seymour Hood, Maſter; and Snow Nancy, Joſhua Winſlow, Maſter; were all to ſail from Liverpool, ſoon after Captain Campbell, the two firſt for this Port, and the three laſt for Philadelphia.

Captain Hayat was to ſail from Briſtol in two or three Days after Captain Curtis, for this Port; and the Grace, Chambers, in 3 Weeks. Captain Hawthorn was loading for Philadelphia.

Captain Marſh, in a Sloop from Liverpool, for this Port, about the Middle of April, was caſt away on the North and South Rocks, near Portaferry, in Ireland, the Crew, with moſt of the Cargoe, ſaved; but the Veſſel it is ſaid will be loſt.

P H I L A D E L P H I A, July 9.

On the Twenty-ninth ult. departed this Life Mrs. MARY MEASE, Wife of Mr. JOHN MEASE, Merchant in this City, and the next Day her Remains were attended to the Grave by a numerous Concourſe of People. She was a Woman of a moſt amiable Diſpoſition, clear Perception, and ſound Judgment. Surrounded with Affluence, ſhe was meek and humble, not valuing this World's Goods, but as they enabled her to relieve the Diſtreſſes of her Fellow Creatures. She was cautious and prudent in her Advice, ſincere and ſteady in her Friendſhip; her general Conduct was influenced by the moſt extenſive Benevolence. She opened her Mouth with Wiſdom, and in her Lips was the Law of Kindneſs; hence ſhe ſeldom made an Enemy, ſhe never loſt a Friend. In her Family ſhe exerciſed the utmoſt Prudence and Diſcretion---To her Friends ſhe exerciſed Tenderneſs and Affection---The ſeveral Duties of her Station ſhe diſcharged in a Manner that deſerves the higheſt Applauſe. She was pious without Vanity or Affectation, and diſtributed her Charity with a liberal, tho' ſecret, Hand. She endured her laſt Illneſs, which was tedious and painful, with the greateſt Calmneſs and Fortitude. Few People have leſs Reaſon to be tired of their Situation in Life, yet none could be more willing to part with Life, knowing that ſhe was ſoon to obtain a better Inheritance. In fine, ſhe was a fair Example of that Character to which the wiſe Man refers, when he ſays, "Whoſo findeth her, findeth a good Thing, and obtaineth Favour of the LORD."

By a Gentleman from Trenton we learn, that on Tueſday, the 30th ult. in the Evening, Mr. William Juſtis, of that Place, was ſtruck dead by a Flaſh of Lightning.----Mr. Yard, of the ſame Place, who was ſtanding very near him, was ſtruck backwards at the ſame time, but happily recovered ſoon afterwards; the Lightning made four Spots on his Breaſt, of a green and yellowiſh Colour, but without the leaſt Pain.

He alſo favoured us with the following Account of a moſt remarkable Increaſe in a Gentleman's Garden there, viz. a ſingle Grain of R Y E produced 169 Ears, which contained upwards of 4800 Grains.

Extract of a Letter from Demarara, May 18, 1767.

"The 24th of April, at 5 in the Morning, we were alarmed with another very dreadful EARTHQUAKE, which continued full 10 Minutes; the Motion ſeemed to be from Eaſt to Weſt, very quick and vibrating, the Weather very heavy Rain, and calm; my Family and I, on the firſt Shock, ran from our Beds to the Fields, where we remained for ſome Time, awfully frightened, and very wet. This is a moſt terrible Country; we have had, more or leſs, Earthquakes every Week ſince the 18th of October laſt."

Captain Maſon, from South Carolina, on Friday laſt, off of the Capes of Virginia, ſpoke a Sloop, Captain Rogers, from Penſacola for Rhode Iſland.

Captain Byrne, from Waterford, on the 3d ult. about 15 Leagues to the Eaſtward of the Banks of Newfoundland, ſpoke a Sloop from Boſton, and another from Rhode Iſland, bound to the Weſtern Iſlands.

Captain Bridges, from Jamaica, on the 21ſt of June, off the Havanna, ſpoke a Snow, Captain Mitchell, from Jamaica for

WANTED, by

BENJAMIN JACKSON, and JOHN GIBBONS,

At their Muſtard and Chocolate ſtore, next door to the London Coffee Houſe, in Market-ſtreet, Philadelphia,

GOOD clean and dry Muſtard Seed, in any quantity, great or ſmall, for which the higheſt price, and ready money, is and will be given; the preſent price is Thirty-two Shillings per buſhel, and will not be lowered this ſeaſon; and as they will want large quantities annually, they are determined, at all times, to give a good price for it, ſo as to make the raiſing of that article worth the conſtant attention of ſuch perſons whoſe lands are natural to it, and not to baffle the raiſers of that valuable ſeed, as by ſome have heretofore been done, by refuſing to buy in plentiful ſeaſons, or lowering the price beyond reaſon. The ſaid Jackſon is the original, and indeed the only proper muſtard manufacturer in this province, or, at preſent, on the continent, who ſome time ſince took into co-partnerſhip Capt. Jonathan Crathorne, which co-partnerſhip has been a conſiderable time diſſolved. The ſaid Jackſon has now entered into a freſh co-partnerſhip with John Gibbons, late of Lancaſter county, who, with himſelf, is determined to carry on the various Branches of their buſineſs with ſpirit and honour; and they aſſure the public, their manufactures of muſtard and chocolate are brought to the greateſt perfection; they therefore imagine both thoſe articles to exceed any other yet made, of which trial will eaſily demonſtrate, and which they will ſell on the moſt reaſonable terms, for ready money only.

Said Jackſon and Gibbons have alſo to ſell, choice old Mountain and Teneriffe wines, by the quart, gallon or dozen, bottled off; rum, ſugar and melaſſes; tea and coffee; ſuperfine, ſingle-refined loaf, lump and muſcovado ſugars; new rice, ground and whole; race and ground ginger; ditto pepper; raiſins and currants; groats and oatmeal; ſpices of all common kinds; raw and roaſted Weſt-India Coffee; rye nicely prepared, in imitation of coffee; whole and ſplit peaſe; beſt ſweet oil; raiſins; tamarinds; citrons; preſerved gooſeberries; Engliſh red herrings; olives, capers and anchovies; alſo a quantity of beſt white wine and cyder vinegar, with a general aſſortment of grocery, &c. &c.

TO be SOLD, very reaſonable, for Caſh or ſhort Credit, by WILLIAM SCULL, Chaiſe-maker, on Society-hill, oppoſite Charles Coxes's in Second-ſtreet, a new PHÆTON, with a fall-back Head, Iron Axletrees, and a neat Boot; the whole painted green, and the Body gilt, and all well finiſhed; with a neat Sett of Harneſs. Said Scull ſtill carries on the Buſineſs of making and repairing Chaiſes, Chairs, &c. &c. †

The whole rented for One Hundred Pounds per Annum.

And alſo a certain yearly Rent Charge of Five Pounds, iſſuing and payable out of a Lot of Ground, ſituate on the Eaſt-ſide of Second-ſtreet, nearly oppoſite to the Baptiſt Meeting-houſe, in the City of Philadelphia, now in the Occupation of Nathan Cook. TO be SOLD, by public vendue, at the London Coffee-houſe, on Wedneſday, the 15th of July next, at 7 o'clock in the evening, if not ſold before by private ſale, one moiety or equal half part of a ſtone griſt-mill, dwelling-houſe and ſtables, with about two acres of land thereunto belonging, lately called or known by the name of Dewees's mill. Alſo one other tract of land, containing about 44 acres, part of which is good meadow, and on which is a good orchard, ſituate on the north ſide of Wiſſahickon creek, about 11 miles from the city of Philadelphia; bounded on the great road leading from Philadelphia to Reading, &c. Likewiſe one other tract or piece of land, ſituate on the ſouth ſide of the ſaid creek, and adjoining the above deſcribed premiſes, on which is a good ſtone houſe, and young orchard, containing about 9 acres. The whole will be ſold together, or ſeparate, as may beſt ſuit the purchaſers. Any perſon inclining to buy, may know the terms, by applying to the ſubſcribers, in Philadelphia, who are impowered to ſell the ſame. The two tracts of land, &c. and the moiety of the mill, are under leaſe, at 85l. per annum rent.

It may not be amiſs to acquaint the public, that the mill above mentioned, is the ſame which Nathan Shepherd lately occupied, concerning which there was a diſpute with reſpect to the privilege of raiſing the water in the mill dam, occaſioned by an anti-dated deed, contrived by William Streper, and his accomplices, purpoſely to defraud Nathan Shepherd of a privilege which he twice bought, and paid for; firſt of William Streper, who had no Right to it, and afterwards of Dennis Streper, whoſe Right it was, and who executed a deed to Nathan Shepherd for the ſame. William Streper knew of this deed from Dennis Streper to Nathan Shepherd, and afterwards applied to the ſaid Dennis, and by colluſion obtained of him a deed for the ſame privilege, dated upwards of a year before it was executed; for which fraudulent piece of conduct, the ſaid William Streper was diſowned by order of the quarterly meeting of the people called Quakers at Philadelphia. By this anti-dated deed, William Streper ſets up a claim to the ſaid privilege; but purchaſers need not be under any apprehenſions of danger on this account, as the matter, we expect, will be ſettled in a ſhort time to ſatisfaction, the attorney general having given his opinion from under his hand, that the anti-dated deed is of no force. HENRY DENNIS, JOSHUA MOORE, BENJAMIN ARMITAGE, jun.

The PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

Containing the Freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtic.

To the PUBLIC.

THE Committee of the Veſtry of Wicacoa, Kingceſſing, and Upper Merion, have ſeen Mr. Andrew Bankſon's ſecond Publication in the Chronicle, No. 23, which is of too frivolous a Nature to induce us to call the Veſtry together, at this buſy Seaſon of the Year. But whenever Affairs of more Importance ſhall require a Meeting, Mr. Bankſon may depend on having ſuch Extracts laid before the Public, from our Books and Records, as will ſufficiently ſhew what Regard he has had to Truth, in his State of the Diſpute between him and the Congregations, or, as he would have it called, between him and our Miniſter. In the mean time, we are very glad to ſee Mr. Bankſon's Rage a little bridled, and that inſtead of plain Charles, he now vouchſafes to ſay Doctor; and has left ſuch Flowers of Speech, as vile, ſcandalous, malicious, wicked, and the like. We ſhall therefore, in tender Regard to Mr. Bankſon's Family, for which he pleads, diſmiſs him for the preſent, with only a few Remarks on his Piece.

In the firſt Place, we do not chooſe to take any Notice of his indecent Manner of mentioning Divine Providence, which all good Men believe to have ſome Influence on human Hearts, and human Events. We obſerve that Mr. Bankſon's Reſentment is ſo ſtrong againſt the Doctor, that it makes him quite forget what ſhould have been his principal Buſineſs, his own Vindication. He was told that the Veſtry had taken the Matter on themſelves, and had deſired their Miniſter to enter into no Altercations on the Subject, as it was their Cauſe, and their Rights, for which he was ſo groſly attacked; yet ſtill Mr. Bankſon calls on the Doctor afreſh. The Doctor has candidly acknowledged that he ſuſpected, and had Reaſon to complain of, Mr. Bankſon's Management of his Truſt, and that nothing can remove that Suſpicion, but his rendering to the Veſtry a juſt and full Account. Mr. Bankſon has not yet rendered that Account, and he ſays he is indifferent about what the Doctor ſuſpects, and yet he would ſtill have the Doctor to acquit him of all Suſpicions, even before a Settlement; nay, he ſays the Doctor promiſed to declare to every Body to whom he had inſinuated it, that his Suſpicions were groundleſs. But this could only be (if it had been promiſed) on Condition that Mr. Bankſon's Accounts ſhould appear juſt, on Examination by the Veſtry; for it would be very unreaſonable to ſuppoſe any thing elſe, unleſs the Doctor, in Complaiſance to Mr. Bankſon, would proſtitute his own Character, and give up the Rights of the Congregations.

Mr. Bankſon is pleaſed to conſider the Publication of the Minute of the Veſtry, as an Artifice of the Doctor's; or, in other Words, to call the Veſtry the Doctor's Tools. We are obliged to him for his kind Opinion; but he will perhaps find, before he has done with us, that we act for ourſelves, and will find Methods to oblige him to do Juſtice to the Congregations, by a fair State of his Accounts, rendered to thoſe who have the ſole Right to ſettle them. The flattering Name of Friends, which he beſtows on us at the ſame time, ſhall not, we hope, influence us in the Diſcharge of our Duty; as we know of no Ties of Friendſhip that ought to interfere with a public Truſt.

The Suſpicions againſt Mr. Bankſon, are not the Doctor's alone, but the Veſtry have declared them to be theirs alſo; and we muſt return Mr. Bankſon's Compliment, and ſay, that his refuſing to anſwer the Veſtry, becauſe they are his Friends, is an Artifice to avoid anſwering us at all, and a Piece of Complaiſance, we do not deſire from him.

Mr. Bankſon ſeems angry, becauſe the Anſwer of the Veſtry was put on their Books. But we rejoice it was put there; for it is ſo ſtrong a Vindication of our Rights, and ſo full an Explanation of our Church Conſtitution, as well as our Reaſons for adopting it, that we hope it will be read and maintained by our Childrens Children, to lateſt Times. It was inſerted in our Veſtry Books with no View to injure Mr. Bankſon, or his Family, with Poſterity; but will rather redound to their Credit, if his Accounts are found juſt by the Veſtry, and a proper Minute of their Settlement made.

In a Word, we deſire Mr. Bankſon not to trifle with us, or evade the main Point in Queſtion. A Settlement by the Committee we conſider as no Settlement at all, till reported and approved by the Veſtry, who conſtituted that Committee. We call on Mr. Bankſon, therefore, and the Committee, to lay that Report, with the Accounts and Vouchers, before the Veſtry; and while he neglects or refuſes to do this Juſtice, we think the Public, as well as we, will have juſt Grounds for Suſpicions not very favourable to him.

July 3, 1767.

To the PUBLIC.

I DID not intend to trouble the Public any further relative to the Attack made upon my Character by Mr. Wrangel, neither do I do it now with any Expectation of obtaining a candid Confeſſion from him that he has done me, or rather endeavoured to do me, an Injury, without the leaſt Foundation; this, it is true, is what I am entitled to, but this would be too much for a "Layman" to expect from a "Clergyman." But as two anonymous Pieces have been publiſhed, which the Authors are pleaſed to call the Acts of the Veſtry, and ſome dark Inſinuations, and idle Threats, are thrown out, which may raiſe Suſpicions not ſo favourable as I could wiſh, I ſhall lay before the Public a true ſtate of the Facts upon which this Diſpute has ariſen, and by which they will be better able to form a true Judgment, than from any thing that has hitherto appeared.

For a conſiderable Length of Time, I was empowered by the Truſtees of Wicacoa Church (of whom I was one) to receive the Rents ariſing from the Church Lands, and from time to time, as Occaſion required, I was directed to expend and diſpoſe of the Money, agreeable to the Terms of the Deed in Truſt. This I accordingly did, with the Privity and Approbation of the then Truſtees, who conſiſted of ſome of the moſt reſpectable Members of the Church, and who never did expreſs any Diſſatisfaction at my Conduct, neither did I ever hear that any Perſon was uneaſy, or ſuſpicious of any Unfairneſs in my Management of the Truſt from the Year 1751, till Mr. Wrangel, about two Years ago, by his Inſinuations, raiſed, or endeavoured to raiſe, unfavourable Impreſſions in the Minds of ſome of the Members of the Church, as well as of ſome other Gentlemen. Every thing continued in the greateſt Harmony till this Man came amongſt us; the former worthy Miniſters of the Church never entertained any Suſpicions that I defrauded the Church, and I believe no Man, who is open to Conviction, can, or does, now ſuſpect it. However, upon my diſcovering the baſe Attempts made to ruin my Character, I, of my own Accord, applied to the Veſtry for a Settlement of my Account, and accordingly a Committee of four Perſons was appointed out of their own Body for that Purpoſe; three of the Committee met (the fourth Man had Notice, but did not attend) I laid before them all my Accounts, and they examined them with a great deal of Care, and gave me the Certificate which I have before publiſhed in the Chronicle, No. 20. The Committee made a Report to the Veſtry. Upon what was done upon the Report by the Veſtry I am not fully apprized, but I have underſtood that Mr. Wrangel raiſed one, and the only Objection, to wit, that Mr. Grantham, one of the Committee, had not ſigned the Account.

Indeed I am not ſurprized that Mr. Wrangel ſhould cavil at a Report which falſified the Aſperſions he had propagated, and this could be his only Reaſon; for he was told Mr. Grantham had Notice, and that he had neglected to attend; and no Man, of plain Senſe, can conceive, that where four Men are appointed to ſettle an Account, and three of them proceed to ſettle it in the Abſence of the Fourth, who had Notice, and neglected to attend, that the Settlement by the three is not ſufficient. Beſides, if the Committee did any thing irregular (though really I cannot ſee wherein) what is that to me? It was not my Buſineſs to appoint a new Committee, neither, I believe, did any Body think it was neceſſary; is it not agreeable to the Courſe of proceeding in every other Caſe? I ſhall beg leave to lay before the Public, one other Certificate of a ſubſequent Account, ſettled before the Veſtry ſoon after the Settlement of the former Account, viz.

Wicacoa, in Philadelphia County, May 5, 1767.

WE the under-written, agreeable to our Appointment as a Committee to ſettle the Accounts previous to the Election, have examined, and do certify the within Account of Mr. Andrew Bankſon againſt the Church at Wicacoa to be juſt and true, and a Ballance in Favour of the ſaid Bankſon of Seven Shillings and Three-pence, Current Money of Pennſylvania. Signed by

JOHN PYEWELL,
GEORGE GRANTHAM,
WILLIAM BOON.

Theſe Certificates I have ever conſidered as concluſive, and I never underſtood, till lately, that any Perſon was diſſatisfied with the Settlement of the Accounts.----And is it not a little ſtrange, that 12 Months, and upwards, ſhould elapſe, and I never be called upon for a new Settlement, if the Accounts were wrong? I have received no Part of the Church Monies ſince the Year 1765, when a Charter of Incorporation was granted; I have no new Account with the Church.---And I would aſk any Man of Candour, ſuppoſing he had an Account with the Swediſh Corporation, and three of their own Body were to ſign that Account, and give him a Certificate accordingly, whether he would not think the Matter concluded and ſettled? Nay, both thoſe Certificates are ſigned by one of the very Gentlemen who, I am well informed, is one of the Committee mentioned in the nameleſs Pieces publiſhed againſt me. Now, how idle and trifling muſt theſe Threats to compel me to render an Account appear, after ſome of the Corporation have certified that there is a Ballance in my Favour? What, after I have parted with my Vouchers (which is the Fact) and obtained a Certificate from yourſelves (for what your Predeceſſors have done, is as binding as if you had done it) would you call me to an Account? Surely, Gentlemen, whoever you are, you cannot be ſerious; I wiſh you would favour the Public with your Names, otherwiſe it will be ſuſpected you are trifling with them. You certainly muſt know that it is not in your Power to compel me to render another Account, but I do not want to avail myſelf of any legal Advantage; I am not at all afraid of another Examination; if you will deliver me thoſe Vouchers, which ſome of you have, I will at any time ſubmit the Matter to three or more indifferent Perſons.

By Captain LYDE, arrived at Boſton from London; and Captain HAIGHT, arrived at New-York from Briſtol; we have the following Advices, viz.

LEGHORN, April 11.

THE laſt letters from Capraia adviſe, that the fortreſs ſtill held out, although they had received no aſſiſtance. Captain Oletta, a Corſican Officer, was killed by a muſket ball, as he was viewing the trenches.

Genoa, April 11. The Senator Pinelli hath not yet been able to introduce the proviſions deſtined for the garriſon of Capraia. It is reported that the Corſicans do not beſiege the fortreſs in form, but blockade it only, perſuaded, that it muſt ſoon ſurrender for want of ſubſiſtence.

Copenhagen, April 25. The King has ſent a circular reſcript to all his miniſters at foreign courts, by which he enjoins them to declare, that the negotiations, entered into with the Empreſs of Ruſſia, have no other object but the intereſts of the high contracting parties, and that there is nothing contained therein, that may concern any of the crowns of Europe, nor cauſe them the leaſt prejudice.

LONDON, May 1.

A memorial has been lately ſent over to Portugal, as we are informed, containing a minute ſpecification of all the expences which we were at for the defence of that kingdom the laſt war, and inſiſting upon an immediate payment or reimburſement.

May 2. Yeſterday morning the two Secretaries of State, and ſeveral Lords of the Privy Council, attended at a great council held at the Cockpit, Whitehall, on affairs of importance.

Letters from Madrid import, that beſides the great treaſure in the Poſſeſſion of the two Jeſuits of Paraguay, who were lately arreſted at Figuera, on their way to Rome, ſome papers were likewiſe found upon them, containing literal proof of the conſpiracies at Quito, Lima, and Mexico; and which, it was thought, had contributed to accelerate the ruin of that ſociety in the Spaniſh Monarchy.

A conſiderable quantity of fire arms was found in the Jeſuits Convent at Barcelona, where, on their being ſurpriſed, they threw into the fire ſome large bundles of books and manuſcripts; but the Governor, we are told, recovered a great part of them from the flames.

It is ſaid, a commiſſion is received from the court of Liſbon for 50,000 firelocks, and the like number of bayonets, to be made in England, for the ſervice of his Portugueſe Majeſty.

Notwithſtanding the promiſes that have been made for our fellow ſubjects the North Americans, and the Honour that has been pawned by a certain great man for them, we are aſſured, that they refuſe to conform to an act of parliament reſpecting the billetting of ſoldiers. From their conduct in this and ſome other matters, there is reaſon to expect freſh troubles from thoſe parts.

A conſiderable bounty on the importation of the American hemp and flax is now ſoliciting for.

It is ſaid, that all ſorts of ſalted meat and butter will be allowed to be imported duty free; as alſo rice, ſago powder, and vermicelli, from our colonies in America, for a limited time.

A letter from the Hague, dated April 28, ſays, "Signor Romanzo, the Corſican courier, paſt by here lately in his return from London. He appeared remarkably gay, but made a profound ſecret of his negotiations. His Maitre de Hotel was heard to ſay, that the taking of Capraia had gained Corſica 100,000 l. extraordinary credit from the Engliſh merchants."

They write from Corſica, that M. de Buſſy, ſaid to be charged with a commiſſion from the French court, had lately arrived there, and held ſeveral conferences with Count de Marbeuf, and propoſes to be preſent at the general congreſs of the ſtates of the iſland, to be held this month.

They write from Gibraltar, that, by letters from Algiers, it was expected the Dey would ſpeedily declare war againſt the grand Duke of Tuſcany.

Letters from Paris ſay, that it is expected the baniſhment of the Jeſuits from Spain, will be followed by their expulſion from the dominions of his Sicilian Majeſty.

May 6. We hear that a large quantity of ammunition and naval ſtores are now getting ready, to be ſhipped with all expedition for the uſe of the Corſicans.

They write from Genoa, that a reinforcement of 350 men, had ſailed for Corſica, and that 500,000 livres were ſent over to pay the Genoeſe troops in that iſland. And that one of their veſſels, which cruiſed on the coaſts of Capraia, had found means to take on board a ſoldier, who had been let down by the Governor of the fortreſs in that iſland with cords; and that it was in conſequence of the advices received by this ſoldier, that the Senate came to a reſolution of ſending a reinforcement of 200 men to Admiral Pinelli.

Letters from Paris ſay, that the French Miniſtry have communicated to the Senate of Genoa the project for an accommodation received from the General Council of the Corſicans, together with the memorial of General Paoli; but the Genoeſe having declared, that they could not accept of it, it is ſuppoſed that the expedition to the iſle of Capraia was undertaken, in order to bring them to a compliance.

Orders are given for a train of artillery to be got ready, to be ſhipped for his Majeſty's garriſon of Minorca.

The Bruſſels gazette, received on Wedneſday, hath the following paragraph under London, April 24. "We are not without fear leſt the meaſures taken for the eſtabliſhing of a tax in America, ſhould give riſe to new troubles in moſt of our colonies.---Precaution however will be taken to leave the repartition and collection of it to the aſſemblies of the different provinces, to whom the governors are to make the propoſition relative thereto on the part of the K---, on condition that they charge themſelves with remitting the produce of the tax to the exchequer here, to be diſpoſed of by parliament. The ſpirit of revolt and independency, which reign in that country, give us reaſon to depend on any good diſpoſitions on their parts."

It is ſaid, that the confiſcated effects belonging to the Jeſuits through the whole kingdom of Spain, already amounted to the ſum of ſeventy-five millions of piaſters, excluſive of the ſpoils expected from that ſociety in the Indies.

May 8. The right hon. Charles Townſend, Eſq; chancellor of the exchequer, has received ſo much hurt from a fall, as to prevent his attending the ſervice of parliament; but he is now much better.

It is ſtrongly reported, that the parliament will be diſſolved, and a new one called, ſo ſoon as the preſent ſeſſions ſhall be ended. This meaſure was adopted (the laſt time) in the year 1747; when the miniſtry, in order to ſave the great expence of a twelve-month's canvaſſing for members, which would have been the conſequence, procured the parliament's diſſolution at the expiration of ſix years.

It is thought that the parliament will not riſe till his Majeſty's birth-day.

By the late ſeizure of the Jeſuits papers and effects in Spain, it is ſaid to have been diſcovered that an immenſe trade in gold and diamonds, has for ſome years paſt been carried on by theſe fathers from South-America, in which certain Spaniards in office in America and the Weſt-Indies are diſcovered to have been ſecretly concerned.

The departure of two companies of the royal regiment of artillery for America, is poſtponed till after the review of the three regiments of foot guards, which is fixed for the 19th of next month.

A letter from Vienna ſays, "Though this court ſeems not directly to concern itſelf about the affairs of Poland, in reſpect to the claims of the Diſſidents, there is reaſon to believe that it will be very attentive to the conſequences thereof. In the mean time, it is generally thought here, that the means uſed by Ruſſia on this occaſion will produce, if not a civil war, at leaſt very great troubles. The Diet, indeed, has the power to grant the demand made by Ruſſia; but the object in queſtion is an important affair of ſtate, and conſequently requires an unanimity of voices; and is it likely that amongſt the great number of deputies, who compoſe that national ſenate, there ſhould not be one who will make uſe of the Liberum veto?"

According to letters from Hamburgh, a northern Potentate, was ſaid to be making preparations to bring an army of fifty thouſand men into the field this ſummer.

The Providence, Clark, is ſailed from Southampton, with troops for New-York.

A few nights ago a gentleman, at a certain Coffee-houſe in the neighbourhood of St. James's, affirmed with great confidence, and offered to lay any wager on it, that the Iriſh parliament would gladly ſettle 50,000 l. a year upon his Royal Highneſs the Duke of York, if his Highneſs would but condeſcend to reſide in that kingdom.

BOSTON, July 2.

Extract of a Letter from London, May 11.

"A few days before the Houſe of Commons adjourned for the Eaſter holidays, the Ch-----r of the Ex-----r opened his budget, with very great applauſe, even Mr. G-----lle complimented him on the occaſion: Among other things he made it appear, that beſides paying the navy and army, and all other charges of government for the laſt year, he had ſunk three millions nine hundred thouſand pounds of the national debt, and aſſured them that the next year he would diſcharge a much greater ſum, notwithſtanding they had reduced the land-tax one ſhilling in the pound. He took an occaſion yeſterday to ſay, that it was reported out of doors that he was for taxing America, I declare, ſays he, I am not, nor never was; I thought the ſtamp-act a very improper meaſure, and uſed my endeavours for the repeal; and (holding out his hand) he ſaid he would cut off that hand before he would vote for taxing America; and if any of the duties laid on trade ſhall appear burthenſome, nothing ſhall be wanting in me to remove them."

That the Americans may have liberty of importing lemons, wine, fruit and oil, directly from Spain and Portugal, ſubject to a duty, the duty on wine to be 7 l. per ton. That the duty on tea remaining in England be taken off, and a duty of 3 *d. per lb. be laid on the importation in America. No public prints were brought in this ſhip.

NEW-LONDON, June 26.

NEW-YORK, July 13.

On Monday laſt arrived the Amity's Production, Capt. Thomas Noble, with 99 ſoldiers on board, under the command of Captain Marſden. They left the Cove of Cork, the 20th of May, in company with 5 other tranſport ſhips for this place, and 3 for Philadelphia, under the command of agent Henry Francis Evans, which Captain Noble parted from in the night, lat. 37, 27, long. 68: 12, but the next day all the other 5 that were bound here arrived, viz.

The 26th regiment, we hear, is ſtationed at Perth-Amboy, and other towns in New-Jerſey, for which place the 3 ſhips ſailed laſt Thurſday.

We are informed by ſome gentlemen in this fleet, that on the paſſage, they ſaw many veſſels, but ſpoke only one, viz. in lat. 27: 40, long. 46 and a half, a French India man, homeward bound, having on board a Governor and his family, ſeveral officers, and troops (but learned no news from her) ſhe had been in company with an Engliſh homeward bound India man, from whom they parted the day before.

The 17th and 28th regiments, we hear, will embark on board the tranſports, as ſoon as they can be got ready for their reception.

Saturday laſt his Majeſty's armed ſchooners, the Earl of Chatham, and Hawke, commanded by Mr. George Stoney, and Mr. Matthew Connely, ſailed from hence for Jamaica: They mount ſix guns each, were built here together by Meſſieurs Totten and Croſsfield, launched together in one day, off one ſett of weys, now ſail together, and belong to one owner; and are ſo much alike as hardly to be known apart, and are by good judges eſteemed compleat veſſels.

Captain Haight ſpoke with the following veſſels, viz. the 15th of June, in lat. 15, long. 43: 47, with the ſhip Betſy, from Liverpool for Virginia, 4 weeks out; the 21ſt following with a brig from North-Carolina for London; the 24th of the ſame month, in lat. 39: 35, long. 58: 58, with a ſhip from Maryland, bound for Briſtol, Colin Campbell, maſter; and on the 5th inſtant, with Captain Dennis, from this port for Madeira, 78 leagues to the eaſtward of Sandy-hook; all well on board each veſſel.

A man of the name of Campbell, was committed to our goal ſince our laſt, for robbing a ſloop that lay in Philadelphia harbour, of caſh to the amount of £300. He has confeſſed the fact, and we make no doubt his ingenuity will be amply rewarded.

By the papers we learn, that Captain M'Bride was arrived from the coaſt of Patagonia, in the South-ſeas, and confirms the account given by Commodore Byron, with regard to the place and ſize of the inhabitants; and that he ſtaid at Falconer's iſland 12 months, to try the ſoil and climate, which he found to be very good, fertile, healthy and temperate.

PHILADELPHIA, July 16.

At Kennet, in Cheſter County, the 5th Inſtant, died JOHN KEY, in the 85th Year of his Age, and the next Day was interred in the Burial Place belonging to the People called Quakers, in that Townſhip, attended by a large Number of reputable People, his Neighbours and Acquaintance.----He was born in a Cave, long afterwards known by the Name of Penny-Pot, near Race-ſtreet, and WILLIAM PENN, our firſt Proprietor, gave him a Lot of Ground, as a Compliment on his being the firſt Child born in this City.----In the early Part of his Life his Converſation was very engaging, and his Company much ſought after by thoſe of his own Age; in his Decline he was much eſteemed for his peaceable Diſpoſition. His Conſtitution was very healthy till about 80, when he was ſeized with the Palſy, and continued weakly till his Death.---- About 6 Years ago he walked on Foot from Kennet to Philadelphia in one Day, which is near 30 Miles.----It has been ſaid that People in this Province are ſhort lived; but when we conſider how few Children were born here 75 Years ago, and obſerve how many old People there are ſtill alive among us (who were born here) we ſhall rather think no Quarter of the World can ſhew a greater Number of aged Perſons than this Province can, in Proportion to the Children born.

On Friday laſt arrived here from Cork, the Tranſport Ships Amity's Benediction, Amity's Admonition, and Liberty, having on board the 18th Regiment (Sir John Seabright's) under the Command of Lieutenant Colonel Wilkins. The Men were diſembarked the next Day, all very healthy, and marched into the Barracks. Captain Antrobus died on the Paſſage, on board the Liberty.----They left Cork the Twentieth of May, but bring no particular News; only that Lord Chatham ſtill ſtood his Ground; that there was no Likelihood of his reſigning his Office, or of the Grenvillian Party coming into the Miniſtry: And that the Affairs of the Eaſt-India Company made a great Noiſe in England.

Captain Barry, from Barbados, informs, that a Brig, Captain Duncan, of this Port, arrived there from Maryland, on the 10th of laſt Month, and ſailed again on the 12th for Antigua.----On the 6th Inſtant, in Lat. 29, Long. 68, he ſpoke a Brig from Antigua for Virginia, 7 Days out, all well, but could not learn the Maſter's Name; and on the 7th in Lat. 32: 30, Long. 71, he ſpoke a Sloop, Captain Williams, 15 Days from Barbados, but laſt from St. Euſtatia, bound to New-London.

Captain Sawyer, from Martinico, adviſes, that a Brig, Captain Montgomery, from this Place, arrived off that Iſland, but was not permitted to trade, and went away for Dominico.----He further adviſes, that the Ports were to be open for Bread till the 1ſt of September, but that there was ſo much there already, it would ſcarce fetch any thing.

Yeſterday arrived here Captain Thompſon from Londonderry, but laſt from Antigua.

From the MASSACHUSETTS GAZETTE of July 2.

LONDON, April 30.

A few printed copies of the following letter having been privately transmitted from Paris to ſome of the writer's particular friends in London, and the ſame being now the general topic of converſation, we thought we could not gratify our political readers more eſſentially, than by devoting a part of our paper to their ſpeculation, on ſo ſingular an occaſion. The letter arrived on Thurſday laſt.

A letter from Mr. WILKES, to his Grace the Duke of G***.

My LORD, Paris, Dec. 12, 1766.

I AM not yet recovered from the aſtoniſhment into which I was thrown by your Grace's verbal meſſage, in anſwer to my letter of the firſt of November. In a converſation I had with Colonel F-----, at the Hotel d'Eſpagne, he did me the honour of aſſuring me, that I ſhould find his brother my real and ſincere friend, extremely deſirous to concur in doing me juſtice; that he was to tell me this from your Grace, but that many intereſting particulars relative to me could not be communicated by letter, nor by the poſt. I fondly believed theſe obliging aſſurances, becauſe on a variety of occaſions, your Grace had teſtified a full approbation of my conduct, had thanked me, in the moſt flattering terms, as the perſon moſt uſeful to the common cauſe in which we were embarked, and had ſhewn an uncommon zeal to ſerve a man who had ſuffered ſo much in the cauſe of liberty.

I returned to England with the gayeſt and the moſt lively hopes. As ſoon as I arrived at London, I deſired my excellent friend, Mr. Fitzherbert, to wait on your Grace, with every profeſſion of regard on my part, and the reſolution I had taken of entirely ſubmitting the mode of the application I ſhould make to the throne for my pardon. I cannot expreſs the anxiety which your Grace's anſwer gave me, 'Mr. Wilkes muſt write to Lord C------.' I then begged Mr. Fitzherbert to ſtate the reaſons, which made it impoſſible for me to follow that advice, from every principle of honour, both public and private. I ſhewed too the impropriety of ſupplicating a fellow ſubject for mercy, the Prerogative good Kings are the moſt jealous of, by far the brigheſt jewel in their crown, and the attribute by which they may the neareſt approach to the divinity.

I afterwards wrote the letter to your Grace, which I have ſeen in all the public prints. I never received any other anſwer but a verbal meſſage, 'Mr. Wilkes muſt write to Lord -----: I do nothing without Lord -----.' When I found that my pardon was to be bought with the ſacrifice of my honour, I had the virtue not to heſitate, I ſpurned at the propoſal, and left my dear native London with a heart full of grief, that my faireſt hopes were blaſted, of humiliation that I had given an eaſy faith to the promiſes of a Miniſter and Courtier, and of aſtoniſhment, that a Nobleman of parts and diſcernment could continue in an infatuation from which the conduct of Lord ------ had recovered every other man in the nation. He was indeed long the favourite character of our countrymen. Every tongue was wanton in his praiſe. The whole people laviſhed on him their choiceſt favours, and endeavoured, by the nobleſt means, by an unbounded generoſity and confidence, to have kept him virtuous. With what anguiſh were we at laſt undeceived! How much it coſt us to give up a man, who had ſo long entirely kept poſſeſſion of our hearts! How cruel was the ſtruggle! But, alas! how is he changed? how fallen? from what height fallen? His glorious ſun is ſet, I believe never to riſe again.

We long hoped, my Lord, that public virtue was the Guide of his actions, and the love of our country his ruling paſſion, but he has fully ſhewn, omnis vis virtuſque in lingua ſita eſt. Our hearts glowed with gratitude for the important ſervices he had done againſt the common enemy, and the voice of the nation hailed him our deliverer; but private ambition was all the while ſkulking behind the ſhield of the Patriot, and at length in an evil hour, made him quit the ſcene of all his glory, the only place in which he could be truly uſeful, for a retreat, where he knew it was impoſſible the confidence of the People could follow, but where he might, in inglorious Eaſe, bear his BLUSHING Honours thick upon him.

I might now, my Lord, expoſtulate with your Grace on a verbal meſſage, and of ſuch a nature, in anſwer to a letter couched in the moſt decent and reſpectful terms, coming too from a late member of the legiſlature. I might regret, that the largeſt proffers of friendſhip and real ſervice, could mean no more than two or three words of cold advice, that I ſhould apply to another, I might be tempted to think it a duty of office in the firſt L--- of the ------ to have ſubmitted to his Majeſty a petition relative to the exerciſe of the nobleſt act of regal power, which any conſtitution can give any Sovereign. Surely, my Lord, my application to the firſt C----- of the ------, who is always conſidered as the firſt miniſter in England, was the very proper application. As I had made no diſcovery of any new wonderful pill or drop, nor pretended to the ſecret of curing the gout or tooth-ach, I never thought of ſoliciting Lord ------ for a privy ſeal. His Lordſhip's office was neither important nor reſponſible. I will not however enlarge on this, but I ſhall deſire your Grace's permiſſion fully to ſtate what has happened to me as a private Gentleman relative to Lord ------, becauſe I would not leave a doubt concerning the propriety of my conduct, in a mind naturally ſo candid, and ſo capable of judging truly, as that of the Duke of ------.

I believe that the flinty heart of Lord ------ has known the ſweets of private friendſhip, and the fine feelings of humanity, as little as even Lord ------. They are both formed to be admired, not beloved. A proud, inſolent, overbearing, ambitious man, is always full of the ideas of his own importance, and vainly imagines himſelf ſuperior to the equality neceſſary among real friends, in all the moments of true enjoyment. Friendſhip is too pure a pleaſure for a mind cankered with ambition, or the luſt of power and grandeur. Lord ------ declared in parliament the ſtrongeſt attachment to Lord Temple, one of the greateſt characters our country could ever boaſt, and ſaid, he would live and die with his noble brother. He has received obligations of the firſt magnitude from that noble brother, yet what trace of gratitude or friendſhip was ever found in any part of his conduct? and has he not now declared the moſt open variance, and even hoſtility? I have had as warm and expreſs declarations of regard as could be made by this marble hearted friend, and Mr. P---- had no doubt his views in even feeding me with flattery from time to time; on occaſions too where candour and indulgence were all I could claim. He may remember the compliments he paid me on two certain poems in the year 1754. If I were to take the declarations made by himſelf and the late Mr. Potter a la lettre, they were more charmed with thoſe verſes after the ninety ninth reading, than after the firſt; ſo that from this circumſtance, as well as a few of his ſpeeches in parliament, it ſeems to be likewiſe true of the firſt Orator, or rather the firſt Comedian, of our age, non diſplicuiſſe illi jocos, ſed non contigiſſe.

I will now ſubmit to your Grace, if there was not ſomething peculiarly baſe and perfidious in Mr. P---'s calling me a blaſphemer of my God for thoſe very verſes, at a time when I was abſent, and dangerouſly ill from an affair of honour. The charge too he knew was falſe, for the whole ridicule of thoſe two pieces was confined to certain myſteries, which formerly the unplaced and unpenſioned Mr. P--- did not think himſelf obliged even to affect to believe.

He added another charge equally unjuſt, that I was the libeller of my King, though he was ſenſible I never wrote a ſingle line diſreſpectful to the ſacred perſon of my ſovereign, but had only attacked the deſpotiſm of his miniſters, with the ſpirit becoming a good ſubject, and zealous friend of his country. The reaſon of this perfidy was plain; he was then beginning to pay homage to the Scottiſh idol, and I was the moſt acceptable ſacrifice he could offer at the ſhrine of B--- Hiſtory ſcarcely gives ſo remarkable a change. He was a few years ago the mad, ſeditious tribune of the people, inſulting his ſovereign even in his capital city; now he is the abject, crouching deputy of the proud Scot, who he declared in parliament, wanted wiſdom, and held principles incompatible with freedom; a moſt ridiculous character ſurely for a ſtateſman, and the ſubject of a free kingdom, but the very compoſition for a favourite. Was it poſſible for me, after this, to write a ſuppliant letter to Lord ----? I am the firſt to pronounce myſelf moſt unworthy of a pardon, if I could have obtained it on thoſe terms.

Although I declare, my Lord, that the conſcious pride of virtue makes me look down with contempt on a man, who could be guilty of this baſeneſs, who could in the lobby declare that I muſt be ſupported, and in the houſe on the ſame day deſert and revile me, yet I will on every occaſion do juſtice to the miniſter. He has ſerved the public in all thoſe points, where the good of the nation coincided with his own private views, and in no other. I venerate the memory of the ſecretary, and I think it an honour to myſelf, that I ſteadily ſupported in parliament an adminiſtration, the moſt ſucceſsful we ever had, and which carried the glory of the nation to the higheſt pitch in every part of the world. He found his country almoſt in deſpair. He raiſed the noble ſpirit of England, and ſtrained every nerve againſt our enemies. His plans, when in power, were always great, though in direct oppoſition to the declarations of his whole life, when out of power. The invincible bravery of the Britiſh troops gave ſucceſs even to the moſt raſh, the moſt extravagant, the moſt deſperate of his projects. He ſaw early the hoſtile intentions of Spain, and if the written advice had been followed, a very few weeks had then probably cloſed the laſt general war; although the merit of that advice was more the merit of his noble brother, than his own. After the omnipotence of Lord B--- in 1761 had forced Mr. P--- to retire from his Majeſty's councils, and the cauſe was declared by himſelf to be our conduct relative to Spain, I had the happineſs of ſetting that affair in ſo clear and advantageous a light, that he expreſſed the moſt entire ſatisfaction, and particular obligations to my friendſhip. I do not however make this a claim of merit to Mr. P--. It was my duty, from the peculiar advantages of information I then had.

The conſtitution of our country has no obligations to him: He has left it with all its beauties, and all its blemiſhes: He never once appeared in earneſt about any queſtion of liberty: He was the cauſe, that in 1764 no point was gained for the public in the two great queſtions of general warrants, and the ſeizure of papers. The curſed remains of the court of ſtar-chamber, the enormous power of the attorney-general, the ſole great judicial officer of the crown, who is durante bene placito, and not upon oath, who tramples on grand juries, and breaks down the firſt, the foremoſt barriers of liberty, continued during his adminiſtration the ſame as before. Every grievance which was not rooted out by the glorious revolution, and the latter ſtruggles of our patriots, ſtill ſubſiſt in full force, notwithſtanding the abſolute power he exerciſed for ſeveral years over every department of the ſtate. But I have done with Lord -----; I leave him to the poor conſolation of a place, a penſion, and a peerage, for which he has ſold the confidence of a great nation. Pity ſhall find and weep over him.

I am now, my Lord, once more driven from the Romans, to the gay, the polite Athenians; but I ſhall endeavour to convince your Grace, that I am not totally loſt to my country nor to myſelf, in this ſcene of elegant diſſipation, and that I do not waſte the time in unavailing complaints of my hard fate, and the ingratitude of thoſe I have ſerved with ſucceſs; for I ſhall very ſoon beg to call the public attention to ſome points of national importance, and in the mean time I ſhall embrace this opportunity of doing myſelf juſtice againſt the calumnies, which a reſtleſs faction does not ceaſe to propagate.

[Here follows a detail of every tranſaction, from his being taken into cuſtody to his being outlawed, which, with the concluſion of the letter, when received, ſhall be publiſhed.]

July 23, 1767. NUMB. 2013.

The PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

Containing the Freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtic.

To the PRINTERS of the PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

I HAVE obſerved, in ſeveral of your Papers, an Advertiſement ſigned Henry Dennis, Joſhua Moore, and Benjamin Armitage, extremely injurious to my private Reputation, and purpoſely calculated to deſtroy it.

The Crime alledged againſt me is of an heinous Nature, and were I really guilty of it, the infamous Puniſhment directed by Law to be inflicted on ſuch Offenders, would be but a juſt Reward for the Offence; but conſcious of my own Innocence, and of my Ability to make it evidently appear at all Times, and fearleſs of the leaſt Puniſhment which can attend what I have done, I am truly concerned to find, that Men, one of whom is intimately acquainted with the whole Tranſaction, and the others Strangers to the Facts neceſſary to be acquainted with, to determine on with the leaſt Degree of Juſtice, ſhould be ſo loſt to the Principles of Religion and Virtue, as to charge a Neighbour, without the leaſt Foundation in Truth, with ſo high an Offence: An Offence on which the Laws of the Country inflict a Puniſhment, that to a generous Mind would be ſcarce leſs ſevere than Death. The Crime I am charged with is Forgery; and if I am guilty, why is it that ſo long Time has elapſed without a Proſecution againſt me? The Malignity of my Enemies have not been wanting, nor have the Doors of Juſtice been ſhut up---I have not fled for it, but am, and always have been, ready to anſwer. Were thoſe my malicious Calumniators capable of proving the Charge againſt me, why have they not applied to the Officers of Juſtice, to bring me to that Puniſhment which I ſhould deſerve? Would not this be acting more in the Characters of honeſt Men, and good Members of Society, than thus wickedly to attempt the Deſtruction of private Reputation, which every good Man eſteems dearer than Life?---However, ſince thoſe Men think Calumny more eligible than Juſtice, and prefer the Publication of the moſt notorious Falſhoods to a Redreſs of their Injuries, if they are injured in a legal Way, a Regard for my much injured Reputation, calls on me to lay before the Public an impartial and true State of the Facts, not depending on my own Aſſertions only, but on the Affidavits of two reputable Perſons.-----This done, I ſhall reſt fully aſſured, that their Deciſion will be candid and impartial; and as my Innocence or Guilt ſhall appear, I ſhall ſtand acquitted or condemned.

The Facts are theſe:---Having agreed with Dennis Streper for a Piece of Land, and paid him the Purchaſe Money, we employed a Surveyor, who ſurveyed it in our Preſence on the 30th Day of March, 1761; after the Survey was finiſhed, Dennis Streper, in a formal Manner, delivered the Land ſo ſurveyed to me, agreeable to, and in Confirmation of, our former Contract, by theſe Expreſſions, viz. "Take Poſſeſſion of the Land now ſurveyed, for as you have bought, paid for, and ſurveyed it, it is now yours."---And at this Time, as I had before ſold my Plantation adjoining to another Perſon, and bought the ſaid Piece of Land to accommodate him with it, in Purſuance of an Agreement made for that Purpoſe, it was expreſly agreed, between Dennis Streper and myſelf, to delay the Execution of the Deed, until I could receive the Conſideration Money from that Perſon, when the Deed might be made to him, and ſave ſome Expence to me; but that whenever the Deed ſhould be executed, it ſhould bear Date the 30th Day of March, 1761, aforeſaid, the Day of the Survey and Delivery of the Land.---Thus ſtands the true State of the Contract between Dennis Streper and myſelf.

It next behoves me to lay before the Public, the Conduct of Nathan Shepherd, and the Circumſtances of his Claim.----Soon after I had made and concluded the Purchaſe, Nathan Shepherd applied to Dennis Streper, alſo to purchaſe this Land, when he was informed by Dennis and his Wife, that they had ſold it to me, and received the Money for it. But this candid Declaration had not ſufficient Influence on Nathan's Honeſty, to perſuade him to deſiſt from his Deſign, and in order to tempt them to violate, if poſſible, their Contract with me, he then offered, if they would break the Bargian, and let him have the Land ſold, with a ſmall Piece adjoining, he would give them Fifty Pounds more than I had given.-----To which they honeſtly replied, that they could not ſell it, as it was not theirs, but mine.----Thus diſappointed in purchaſing the Land which I had bought and paid for, and had in my Poſſeſſion, he, near Ten Months after, viz. the 4th of February, 1762, bought of Dennis Streper another Piece of Land, on the oppoſite Side of Wiſſabiccon Creek; for this Piece of Land he employed a Clerk to draw a Deed, and directed him to inſert, after deſcribing in the granting Part, the Land purchaſed, "And "alſo a free and uninterrupted Liberty of keeping up the Mill-"Dam, as it was in William Streper's Time, at the higheſt, as "the ſame is now marked and agreed to."---Here it ſhould be known, that Nathan Shepherd, without the Knowledge of Dennis Streper, had, ſome ſhort Time before, marked a Beach Tree ſo much higher than the Dam was in my Time, as is confeſſed in a "Writ brought by himſelf againſt Dennis Streper, "as to cover "with Water all the Land which I had purchaſed."---And when the ſaid Deed was about to be executed, he, with what View or Motive the Public will determine, deſired the Clerk to read the Deed to Dennis Streper, but to omit the ſaid Words, reſpecting the Privilege of raiſing the Water---this the Clerk virtuouſly refuſed; upon which Shepherd took Dennis Streper into another Room, and after ſome ſhort Time returned with the Deed. The Clerk then aſked him if he had read the Deed to Dennis Streper; to which he replied, Yes, omitting----with a Laugh----This happened at Shepherd's Houſe---They then carried the Deed to Dennis Streper's to be executed; Streper's Wife, when aſked to ſign, deſired the Clerk to read it; Shepherd anſwered, he had read the Deed to her Huſband---and took out of his Pocket ſome Money, which he gave her, to induce her to ſign---whereupon ſhe, concluding the whole Deed had been read to her Huſband, executed it.----Theſe Facts I have certified under the Clerk's Hand, who is ready, when called on, to prove them on Oath---To which it is material to add, that Dennis Streper, ſhortly before his Death, when in a very low State of Health, declared, and his Widow is now ready to declare, that they never knew of theſe Words being inſerted in the Deed, reſpecting the Water, until about two or three Weeks after the Execution of the Deed, when they went to a Magiſtrate to acknowledge it, where the Deception was diſcovered on reading of it to the Wife in private, after the Huſband had acknowledged it, and on this Account the Wife refuſed to acknowledge it, and ever has to this Day.

Under this Privilege, thus obtained in the Deed, Shepherd ſoon after ſet up a Right to raiſe his Dam up to the Mark he had before made on the Beach Tree, and thereby to drown my Land, which he knew I had long before honeſtly bought and paid for. I now thought it Time to have my Deed executed, and accordingly it was done, but dated agreeable to my expreſs Contract with Dennis Streper, at the Time the Land was ſurveyed.

And as I was conſcious that I had done nothing wrong in the Matter, on the 28th Day of March, 1763, I applied for, and obtained, the Opinion of Joſeph Galloway, Eſq; under his Hand, wherein he informs me, "that by Virtue of my Contract, the "Survey in Purſuance thereof, and the Direction of Dennis Stre-"per to me, at the Time of the Survey, to take Poſſeſſion of "the Land, it paſſed to me as fully as if there had been a Deed, "executed at the ſame Time, and of Courſe that he had no "Right, nor could legally convey any Liberty or Privilege to "Shepherd, whereby my Eſtate or Right could be affected after "that Date." As to the Attorney-General's Opinion, I have it by me, and on the State of the Caſe laid before him, I have not the leaſt Reaſon to doubt its Validity in Law; but as the moſt eſſential Facts on which my Title depends are omitted in it, from a full Confidence in that Gentleman's Integrity, and Ability in the Law, I have repeatedly offered, and do now offer, upon a true State of the Caſe, to leave the whole Matter to his Determination, which I make no Doubt will be a juſt and candid One.

Before I conclude, I think it neceſſary to inform the Public, and particularly thoſe who may incline to be Purchaſers of that Half of the Mill advertiſed, that I never have denied or diſputed Shepherd's Right to raiſe the Water as high as it ever was in my Time. And I do hereby diſclaim having any Power or Right to deprive the Mill aforeſaid of any Privilege of the Water which the Owners thereof have heretofore enjoyed.

Upon the whole, I ſhall now ſubmit the foregoing State of the Facts, with the following Affidavits in Support of them, to the candid Peruſal of the Public, who will from thence be enabled, without much Difficulty, to determine whether my Conduct has deſerved the ignominious Charge of antidating a Deed, purpoſely contrived to defraud Nathan Shepherd, and whether ſuch Charge is not founded in Malice, and wickedly calculated to ruin my Reputation. WILLIAM STREPER.

THIS Third Day of July, 1767, before me William Dewees, Eſq; one of the Juſtices, &c. came Margaret Streper, Widow of Dennis Streper, who being duly qualified according to Law, did depoſe and ſay, that ſoon after her late Huſband Dennis Streper had ſold a Piece of Land to William Streper, for a Tail-race, Nathan Shepherd came to their Houſe, and offered to purchaſe the ſame Piece of Land; that her Huſband and herſelf told the ſaid Nathan Shepherd that they had ſold it to William Streper, and received the Money for it. That the ſaid Nathan Shepherd then told them, that if they would break the Bargain with William Streper, and would let him have the Land, with a ſmall Piece adjoining, he would give them Fifty Pounds more for it than William had given. But they anſwered, that they could not ſell it, as it was not theirs but William Streper's Land. And further this Deponent ſaith, that this Diſcourſe paſſed between them and the ſaid Shepherd long before Shepherd bought any Land of them. And further this Deponent doth declare, that in the Evening of the Day on which William Streper had the Land ſurveyed for his Tail-race, that her ſaid Huſband Dennis Streper informed her, that William Streper and himſelf had agreed that the Deed to be made to William Streper, ſhould be dated to that Day. And further this Deponent ſaith not.

THIS Third Day of July, 1767, before me William Dewees, Eſq; one of the Juſtices, &c. came George Nice, who being duly affirmed according to Law, did declare, that he was preſent on the 30th Day of March, 1761, and carried the Chain for the Surveyor, when he ſurveyed 150 Perches of Land, called a Tail-race, ſold before that Time, by Dennis Streper, to William Streper; and that he then, after the Survey was finiſhed, heard the ſaid Dennis tell the ſaid William Streper, *to take Poſſeſſion of the ſaid Land then ſurveyed, for as he had bought, paid for, and ſurveyed it, it was now his. Remainder of the LETTER, begun in our laſt, from Mr. WILKES to his Grace the Duke of G***.

THE affair of the General Warrant, and the Habeas Corpus, is told very unfaithfully, and almoſt every particular, relative to my being made a priſoner, and ſent to the Tower on the 30th of April, 1763, has been injuriouſly miſrepreſented in ſeveral late publications. I ſhall therefore ſtate the tranſactions of that memorable day, and I may appeal to the minutes taken at the time for the accuracy of this relation.

On my return from the city early in the morning, I met at the end of Great George-ſtreet one of the King's meſſengers. He told me that he had a warrant to apprehend me, which he muſt execute immediately, and that I muſt attend him to Lord Halifax's. I deſired to ſee the warrant. He ſaid it was againſt the authors, printers, and publiſhers of the North-Briton, No. 45. and that his verbal orders were to arreſt Mr. Wilkes. I told him the warrant did not reſpect me; I adviſed him to be very civil, and to uſe no violence in the ſtreet; for if he attempted force, I would put him to death in the inſtant; but, if he came quietly to my houſe, I would convince him of the illegality of the warrant, and the injuſtice of the orders he had received. He choſe to accompany me home, and then produced the general warrant. I declared that ſuch a warrant was abſolutely illegal, and void in itſelf; that it was a ridiculous warrant againſt the whole Engliſh nation; and I aſked why he would ſerve it on me rather than on the Lord Chancellor, on either of the Secretaries, on Lord Bute, or Lord Corke, my next door neighbour? The anſwer was, I am to arreſt Mr. Wilkes. In about an hour afterwards, two other meſſengers arrived, and ſeveral of their aſſiſtants. They all endeavoured in vain to perſuade me to accompany them to Lord Halifax's. I had likewiſe many civil meſſages from his Lordſhip to deſire my attendance. My only anſwer was, that I had not the honour of viſiting his Lordſhip, and this firſt application was rather rude and ungentleman-like.

While ſome of the meſſengers and their aſſiſtants were with me, Mr. Churchill came into the room. I had heard that their verbal orders were likewiſe to apprehend him, but I ſuſpected they did not know his perſon, and by preſence of mind I had the happineſs of ſaving my friend. As ſoon as Mr. Churchill entered the room, I accoſted him, Good morrow, Mr. Thomſon: How does Mrs. Thomſon do to-day? Does ſhe dine in the country? Mr. Churchill thanked me, ſaid ſhe then waited for him, that he only came for a moment to aſk me how I did, and almoſt directly took his leave. He went home immediately, ſecured all his papers, and retired into the country. The meſſengers could never get intelligence where he was. The following week he came to town, and was preſent both the days of hearing at the court of Common-pleas.

The whole morning paſſed in meſſages between Lord Halifax and me. The buſineſs of the meſſengers being ſoon publicly known, ſeveral of my friends came to me on ſo extraordinary an event. I deſired two or three of them to go to the court of Common-pleas, to make affidavit of my being made a priſoner in my own houſe under an illegal warrant, and to demand a Habeas Corpus. The Chief Juſtice gave orders that it ſhould iſſue immediately. A conſtable came afterwards with ſeveral aſſiſtants to the meſſengers. I repeatedly inſiſted on their all leaving me, and declared I would not ſuffer any one of them to continue in the room againſt my conſent, for I knew and would ſupport the rights of an Engliſhman in the ſanctuary of his own houſe. I was then threatened with immediate violence, and a regiment of the guards, if neceſſary. I ſoon found all reſiſtance would be vain. The conſtable demanded my ſword, and inſiſted on my immediately attending the meſſengers to Lord H------'s. I replied, that if they were not aſſaſſins, they ſhould firſt give me their names in writing. They complied with this, and thirteen ſet their hands to the paper. I then got into my own chair, and proceeded to Lord H------'s, guarded by the meſſengers and their aſſiſtants.

I was conducted into a great apartment fronting the Park, where Lord H------ and Lord E-------- the two S---------- of S---, were ſitting at a table covered with paper, pens and ink. The Under-ſecretaries ſtood near their Lordſhips. Mr. Lovell Stanhope, the Law Clerk, and Mr. Philip Carteret Webb, the Solicitor of the Treaſury, were the only perſons beſides who attended. Lord E------- received me with a ſupercilious, inſolent air; Lord H------ with great politeneſs. I was deſired to take the chair near their Lordſhips, which I did. Lord H------ then began, "That he was really concerned that he had been neceſſitated to proceed in that manner againſt me; that it was exceedingly to be regretted that a gentleman of my rank and abilities could engage againſt his King, and his Majeſty's government." I replied, "That his Lordſhip could not be more miſtaken, for the King had not a ſubject more zealouſly attached to his perſon and government than myſelf; that I had all my life been a warm friend of the houſe of Brunſwick, and the Proteſtant ſucceſſion; that while I made the trueſt profeſſions of duty to the King, I was equally free to declare in the ſame moment, that I believed no Prince had ever the misfortune of being ſerved by ſuch ignorant, inſolent and deſpotic miniſters, of which my being there was a freſh, glaring proof, for I was brought before their Lordſhips by force, under a General Warrant, which named no body, in violation of the laws of my country, and of the privileges of Parliament; that I begged both their Lordſhips to remember my preſent declaration, that on the very firſt day of the enſuing ſeſſion of Parliament, I would ſtand up in my place, and impeach them for the outrage they had committed on my perſon againſt the liberties of the people." Lord H------ anſwered, "That nothing had been done but by the advice of the beſt lawyers, and that it was now his duty to examine me." He had in his hand a long liſt of queſtions, regularly numbered. He began, "Mr. Wilkes, do you know Mr. Kearſly? When did you ſee him? &c. &c." I replied, "That I ſuſpected there was a vain hope my anſwer would tend rather to what his Lordſhip wiſhed to know; that he ſeemed to be loſt in a dark and intricate path, and really wanted much light to guide him through it; but that I could aſſure his Lordſhip not a ſingle ray ſhould come from me." Lord H------ returned to the charge; "Mr. Wilkes, do you know Mr. Kearſly? &c. &c." I ſaid, "That this was a curioſity on his Lordſhip's part, which, however laudable in the Secretary, I did not find myſelf diſpoſed to gratify; and that at the end of my examination, all the quires of paper on their Lordſhips table ſhould be as milk-white as at the beginning." Lord H------ then deſired to remind me of my being their priſoner, and of their right to examine me. I anſwered, "That I ſhould imagine their Lordſhips time was too precious to be trifled away in that manner; that they might have ſeen before, I would never ſay one word they deſired to know;" and I added, "Indeed, my Lords, I am not made of ſuch ſlight, flimſy ſtuff." Then, turning to the Lord E-------, I ſaid, "Could you employ tortures, I would never utter a word unbecoming my honour, or affecting the ſacred confidence of any friend. God has given me firmneſs and fidelity. You triſle away your time moſt egregiouſly, my Lords." Lord H------ then adviſed me to weigh well the conſequences of my conduct, and the advantages to myſelf of a generous, frank confeſſion. I lamented the proſtitution of the word GENEROUS to what I ſhould conſider as an act of the utmoſt treachery, cowardice and wickedneſs.

His Lordſhip then aſked me, "If I choſe to be priſoner in my own houſe, at the Tower, or in Newgate, for he was diſpoſed to oblige me?" I gave his Lordſhip my thanks, but I deſired to remark, "That I never received an obligation but from a friend; that I demanded juſtice, and my immediate liberty, as an Engliſhman, who had not offended the laws of his country; that as to the reſt, it was beneath my attention; the odious idea of reſtraint was the ſame odious idea every where; that I would go where I pleaſed; and if I was reſtrained by a ſuperior force, I muſt yield to the violence, but would never give colour to it by a ſhameful compromiſe; that every thing was indifferent to me in compariſon of my honour and liberty; that I made my appeal to the laws, and had already by my friends applied to the Court of Common Pleas for the Habeas Corpus, which the Chief Juſtice had actually ordered to be iſſued; and that I hoped to owe my diſcharge ſolely to my innocence, and to the vigour of the law in a free country." Lord H----- then told me, "That I ſhould be ſent to the Tower, where I ſhould be treated in a manner ſuitable to my rank, and that he hoped the meſſengers had behaved well to me." I acknowledged that they had behaved with humanity, and even civility to me, notwithſtanding the ruffian orders given them by his Lordſhip's colleague. I then again turned to Lord ------, and ſaid, "Your Lordſhip's verbal orders were to drag me out of my bed at midnight. The firſt man who had entered my bed-chamber by force, I ſhould have laid dead on the ſpot: Probably I ſhould have fallen in the ſkirmiſh with the others. I thank God, not your Lordſhip, that ſuch a ſcene of blood has been avoided. Your Lordſhip is very ready to iſſue orders, which you have neither courage to ſign, nor I believe to juſtify." No reply was made to this. The converſation dropped. Lord H ----- retired into another apartment. Lord ------- continued ſullen and ſilent about a quarter of an hour. I then made a few remarks on ſome capital pictures which were in the room, and his Lordſhip left me alone.

I was afterwards conducted into another apartment. I found there ſeveral of my friends in argument with the moſt infamous of all the tools of that adminiſtration, Mr------. He confirmed to me, that I was to be carried to the Tower, and wiſhed to know if I had any favours to aſk? I replied, "That I was uſed to confer, not to receive favours; that I was ſuperior to the receiving any, even from his maſters; that all I would ſay to him was, if my valet de chambre was allowed to attend me in the Tower, I ſhould be ſhaved, and have a clean ſhirt; if he was not, I ſhould have a long beard, and dirty linen." Mr. ------ ſaid, "That orders would be given for his admiſſion at the Tower." I complained of the ſhameful evaſion of the Habeas Corpus, in ſending me to the Tower, though the orders of the Chief Juſtice Pratt were known. Mr. ------ made no reply to this. He came to viſit me in the Tower in the beginning of my impriſonment, when I had not the permiſſion to ſee any friend. I deſired him almoſt at his firſt entrance to take his leave, for if I was not allowed to ſee thoſe I loved, I would not ſee thoſe I deſpiſed.

While I continued in the Tower, I was preſſed to offer bail, in order to regain my liberty, and two of the firſt Nobility deſired to be my ſecurities, in the ſum of 100,000 l. each. I was exceedingly grateful for the offer, but would not accept it. I obſerved that neither my health nor my ſpirits were affected; that I would by great temperance and abſtinence endeavour to compenſate the want of air and exerciſe; but if my health ſuffered in a dangerous way, I would then accept ſuch generous offers; for I hoped to live, that ſo noble a cauſe might be brought to a glorious iſſue for the liberties of my country. From the beginning of this arduous buſineſs, I would not on any occaſion give bail, by which I never involved any friend, and remained the perfect maſter of my own conduct.

* * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * *

The laſt calumny, my Lord, which I ſhall diſprove, reſpects the actions at law againſt Lord H------. It is ſaid that I have neglected, or purpoſely diſcontinued them, ſince my exile. The imputation is totally groundleſs. I was ſo ill at Paris in the beginning of the year 1764, that it was impoſſible for me to return to England alive, but I gave the moſt expreſs orders that the law proceedings ſhould be carried on with vigour, and in fact there was not a moment's delay. When my wound began to heal in the ſpring, I was diſſuaded by all my friends from returning to a country where the ſame Adminiſtration, which had illegally ſeized my perſon, plundered my houſe, and corrupted the fidelity of my ſervants, were ſtill in full power. I yielded to theſe reaſons, becauſe propter eorum ſcelus, nihil mihi intra meos parietes tutum, nihil inſidiis vacuum viderem.---Lord ----- for near two years availed himſelf of every advantage which privilege and the chicane of the law could furniſh. He never entered any appearance to a Court of Juſtice, and the Common Pleas had, as far as they could, puniſhed ſuch an open contempt, ſuch a daring proof that Adminiſtration would not ſubmit to the law of the land, and had endeavoured to compel his Lordſhip to appear. Towards the end of 1764, I was outlawed. The proceedings continued againſt his Lordſhip till that hour. He then appeared, and his ſingle plea was, that as an outlaw, I could not hold any action. No other defence was made againſt the heinous charge of having, in my perſon, violated the rights of the people.

I felt this, my Lord, as the moſt cruel ſtroke which fortune had given me. Juſtice had at length overtaken many of the inferior criminals, but my outlawry prevented my puniſhing the great, the capital offender, when, after all his ſubterfuges, he was almoſt within my reach. I pleaſe myſelf, however, with the reflection that no Miniſter has ſince dared to iſſue a General Warrant, nor to ſign an order for the Seizure of Papers. In the one the perſonal liberty of every ſubject is immediately concerned. On the other may depend not only his own ſafety and property, but what will come ſtill more home to a man of honour, the ſecurity, the happineſs of thoſe with whom he is moſt intimately connected, their fortunes, their future views, perhaps their ſecrets, the diſcovery of which would drive the coldeſt Stoic to deſpair, their very exiſtence poſſibly, all that is important in the public walk of life, all that is dear and ſacred in friendſhip and in love. I was the laſt oppreſſed, but I was the firſt man who had the courage to carry through a juſt reſiſtance to theſe acts of deſpotiſm. Now the opinions of our ſovereign Courts of juſtice are known and eſtabliſhed. I rejoice that ſeveral others who ſuffered before me, have ſince made their appeal to the laws, and obtained redreſs. I hope the iron rod of miniſterial oppreſſion is at length broken, and that I am the laſt victim of violence and cruelty. I ſhall not then regret all the ſacrifices I have made, and my mind ſhall feaſt itſelf with the recollection in the unjuſt exile I am doomed to ſuffer from my friends and my native land.

I will now, my Lord, only add, however unfaſhionable ſuch a declaration may be, that conſiſtency ſhall never depart from my character; that to the laſt moment I will preſerve the ſame fixed and unconquerable hatred to the enemies of freedom, and the conſtitution of our happy iſland; the ſame warm attachment to the friends and the cauſe of liberty; that I keep a ſteady and a longing eye on England: That my endeavours for the good and ſervice of my country, by every method left me, ſhall have a period only with my life; and that although I do not mean to lay any future claim to your Grace's favour, I will take care to ſecure your eſteem. I am my Lord,

Your Grace's moſt obedient,
and very humble ſervant,
JOHN WILKES.

By Captain St. BARBE, arrived at Boſton from Falmouth; and Captain SINCLAIR, arrived at New-York from London, we have the following Advices, viz.

C A D I Z, April 21.

SEVERAL tranſports are hired to carry a number of Jeſuits from hence to Civita Vecchia: They are to ſail very ſoon, under convoy of the Spaniſh ſhip of war Princeſſa.

Falmouth, May 14. Arrived the Harriot packet-boat, from New-York.

L O N D O N.

May 16. A foreign miniſter, we hear, will depart from this metropolis in a week.

We hear orders are ſent to Ireland, for ſix regiments of foot, to be in readineſs to embark at a ſhort notice.

We are now credibly aſſured, that epiſcopacy will never take place among our ſubjects in America.

We learn from Boſton in New-England, that the preſent diſpute between the government and aſſembly chiefly relates to the quartering of ſoldiers, the latter having flatly refuſed to provide for the maintainance of the troops, purſuant to orders ſent lately from England.

We hear ſtrict orders are ſent over to his Majeſty's American Governors, to prohibit the holding any future congreſs of the different colonies, as was lately done in the caſe of the ſtamp act.

A negociation for a change of miniſters is certainly on foot, and has been for ſeveral days paſt.

Lord E------t, it is ſaid, will be made ſecretary of ſtate for the ſouthern department, with the name and power of miniſter annexed to his office.

Others again ſay, that there are no leſs than three negociations on foot, for a new ſett of miniſters; and that the next it is thought would be a tory miniſtry.

Thurſday ſome diſpatches of conſequence were ſent off, from Secretary Conway's office, for his excellency Governor Bernard of New-England.

We hear a committee of American merchants will in a few days attend the miniſtry, on affairs of great importance.

No acts of the American aſſemblies will for the future be allowed to be valid, unleſs they ſhall wholly comply with the late act for quartering ſoldiers in America.

We alſo hear that the American aſſemblies will be obliged to conform to all acts of the Britiſh legiſlature, reſpecting both their internal as well as external polity and government.

The odds lately againſt the Americans were 8 2.

According to recent letters from Rome, the Jeſuits were on the point of loſing the protection of his holineſs the Pope, influenced thereto, it is ſaid, by the diſcovery of certain intrigues of the ſociety, highly derogatory both to the honour and intereſts of the court of Rome.

The diſcovery of a large quantity of warlike ſtores, which had been a long time ſecretly accumulating, in a college of the Jeſuits, for the uſe of their brethren in Paraguay (where they were to be privately tranſported) facilitated not a little to the diſgrace of thoſe fathers.

May 18. We hear a plan has been propoſed, by a great man in the adminiſtration, to regulate Eaſt-India ſales, by which the monopoly of teas in particular will be in a great meaſure prevented.

The Rev. and learned Dr. John Witherſpoon, one of the Miniſters of Paiſley, who was in the latter end of the year 1766 unanimouſly elected Preſident of the College of New-Jerſey, in America, has wrote a letter to the Governors of the ſaid College, declining to accept of that high and important truſt.

Extract of a letter from Paris, dated May 5.

"*The Engliſhman who, through ignorance of our cuſtoms and manners, gave a box on the ear to a military gentleman at the Concert Spirituel, and who was ſent to the Baſtile, is almoſt cured. Extract from the Votes of the Houſe of Commons of GREAT-BRITAIN, the 15*th of May*, 1767.

Reſolved,

THAT it appears to this Committee, that the Houſe of Repreſentatives of his Majeſty's Province of New-York, have, in direct Diſobedience of the Legiſlature of Great-Britain, refuſed to make Proviſion for ſupplying with Neceſſaries his Majeſty's Troops in ſuch Manner as is required by an Act of Parliament, made in the 5th Year of his Majeſty's Reign, intituled, An Act to amend and render more effectual, in his Majeſty's Dominions in America, an Act paſſed in this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, intituled, An Act for puniſhing Mutiny and Deſertion, and for the better Payment of the Army and their Quarters.

Reſolved, That it appears to this Committee, that an Act of Aſſembly hath been paſſed in the ſaid Province, for furniſhing the Barracks in the Cities of New-York and Albany with Firewood and Candles, and other Neceſſaries therein mentioned, for his Majeſty's Forces, inconſiſtent with the Proviſions, and in Oppoſition to the Directions of the ſaid Act of Parliament.

Reſolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, that until Proviſion ſhall have been made by the ſaid Aſſembly, for furniſhing the King's Troops with all the Neceſſaries required by the ſaid Act of Parliament, the Governor, Council and Aſſembly, be reſpectively reſtrained and prohibited from paſſing or aſſenting to any Act of Aſſembly, for any other Purpoſe whatſoever.

The firſt Reſolution of the Committee being read a ſecond Time;

The Houſe was moved, that an Act, made in the 5th Year of his preſent Majeſty's Reign, intituled, An Act to amend and render more effectual, in his Majeſty's Dominions in America, an Act, paſſed in this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, intituled, An Act for puniſhing Mutiny and Deſertion, and for the better Payment of the Army and their Quarters, might be read.

And the ſame being read accordingly;

A Motion was made, and the Queſtion being put, that the ſaid Reſolution be re-committed: It paſſed in the Negative.

A Motion was made, and the Queſtion being put, that, for the better ſecuring the Dependency of His Majeſty's Dominions in America, upon the Crown and Parliament of Great-Britain, all Perſons within His Majeſty's ſaid Dominions, who ſhall be elected or appointed Governor, Member of the Council, General Aſſembly, Houſe of Repreſentatives, or General Court, of any Province, within the ſame; and alſo all other Perſons within the ſame, who, by any Charter, Act of Parliament, or Provincial Law, are required to take the Oaths of Allegiance and Abjuration, be required to subscribe a Declaration, "That the Colonies "and Plantations in America are, and of Right ought to be, subordinate unto, and dependent upon, the Imperial Crown and "Parliament of Great-Britain; and that the King's Majesty, by "and with the Advice and Consent of the Lords Spiritual and "Temporal, and Commons of Great-Britain, in Parliament assembled, had, hath, and of Right ought to have, full Power "and Authority to make Laws and Statutes, of sufficient Force "and Validity, to bind the Colonies, and People of America, "subjects of the Crown of Great-Britain, in all Cases whatsoever;"

It passed in the Negative.

Resolved, Nemine Contradicente,

That an humble Address be presented to His Majesty, that He will be graciously pleased to confer some Marks of his Royal Favour, on those Governors and Officers in the several Colonies, who distinguished themselves by their Zeal and Fidelity in supporting the Dignity of the Crown, the just Rights of Parliament, and the Supreme Authority of Great-Britain over the Colonies, during the late Disturbances in America.

PHILADELPHIA, July 23.

Captain Potts, from Gibraltar, informs us, that the Ship Hannah, Captain Cobourn, of this Port, sailed from thence the 17th of May for Tangier, to load with Mules for the West-Indies; and that the Ship Lackey, Captain Brown, arrived there from Tripoli the 6th ult. and was soon to sail for this Place.----On the 30th of last Month, in Lat. 30, Long. 50, he spoke the Ship Deep Bay, Captain Brown, from Boston for St. Christophers, 15 Days out, all well.

Captain Hazelwood, from St. Christophers, on the 2d Instant, off of St. Eustatia, spoke the Schooner Experiment, Captain William Malowny, from Halifax for St. Croix, out 22 Days, all well.

By Captain Davidson, from Providence, we learn, that the Vessels had all (except three) returned from the Keys, where they went in Search of the Treasure, lost some Time since, in a Spanish Ship, as formerly mentioned; but that, on hearing of the Success of the three Vessels, who had got 35,000 Dollars, they all went out again, in order to renew their Search. He also advises, that the three Frenchmen confined there for the Murder of their Captain (as mentioned in No. 2001 of this Paper) had been tried, and two of them condemned, one of whom was hanged, and the other reprieved for six Months. On the 2d Instant, about 20 Leagues to the Northward of Providence, he saw a small black Sloop standing for that Island, supposed to be Captain Lowther, from this Port; and on the 12th, in Lat. 28, Long. 75, he spoke a Sloop from Charlestown for the Bay of Honduras, 4 Days out.

Captain John Davidson, from Jamaica, on the 10th Instant, in Lat. 36: 5, spoke the Schooner Britannia, Captain Dyer, from this Place for Pensacola, 8 Days out; and on the 16th, in Lat. 36: 39, he spoke a Brig, Captain Powell, from Dublin for this Port, with Passengers, 9 Weeks out.

Captain Mitchell, from Jamaica, on the 10th Instant, spoke with Captain Bennet, in a Sloop, belonging to Jamaica, bound to New-York from the Bay of Honduras, who had been out 70 odd Days; but as he was in Want of Provisions, and the Vessel very leaky, the Captain thought he should be obliged to put into Carolina.

Captain Chancellor, from Barbados, about twelve Days ago, in Lat. 31, Long. 71: 30, spoke a Brig, Captain Powell, from this Port for Jamaica.

ARRIVALS.

From Virginia. Captains Campbell, Morgan, Mackie, Powell and Parker, at Barbados. And Captain Wilkins at Antigua.
From Maryland. Captains Vanbebber and Martin at Antigua. And Captain Thomas at Barbados.
From New-York. Captain Breckenridge, at Antigua.
From Philadelphia. Captain Buzzy at Barbados; Captains Hall and Nicholson at Halifax (the latter sailed again for Falmouth and Cork) Captains Harrison and Lee in South-Carolina; Captain Timmons at Surrinam; Captain Shaw at Quebec; and Captain Forrest at New-Providence.

 The Piece relating to the THEATRE, with an Introduction, signed PHILADELPHUS, is come to hand, and will be published as soon as we can possibly spare the Room for it.

To the PUBLIC.

THE Committee of the Churches of Wicacoa, Kingcessing, and Upper Merion, have seen one more of Mr. Bankson's Publications; and therefore find themselves under the Necessity of troubling the Public again. But they shall be brief, as Mr. Bankson seems now to be brought to his last Shifts, and takes Shelter wholly in mean Evasions, or unworthy Misrepresentations of Facts.

We pass over that Part of his Paper, which mentions his Appointment to receive the Church Revenues; an Office which he seems to have given up with great Reluctance; and shall only remark two Mistakes, if not wilful Misrepresentations, in this Paragraph.

1. Mr. Bankson says,---"The Members of the Church never "expressed any Dissatisfaction at his Conduct, nor did he ever "hear that any Person was uneasy or suspicious from the Year "1751, till about two Years ago, when Mr. *Wrangel raised, "or endeavoured to raise, unfavourable Impressions," &c.

Now this is so far from Truth, that even the other Gentlemen who were in the Trust with Mr. Bankson, and met twice a Year with the Vestry at Wicacoa, shewed Uneasiness, and did repeatedly join the Vestry in requesting a Settlement. And the Vestry have already declared in public (and think they are as well entitled to Credit as Mr. Bankson) that Uneasiness and Suspicions, in Regard to Mr. Bankson's Conduct, prevailed in the Congregations, before our present worthy Minister came among us.

2. Mr. Bankson is still hardy enough to assert, that "he, of "his own Accord, applied to the Vestry, to have his Accounts "settled."

This is so notoriously false, that Mr. Bankson at first, when called on, absolutely refused to surrender any Account to the Vestry, saying he was not accountable to them, and was at last, in a public Meeting of the Vestry, Trustees, and several Members of the Congregation, with Difficulty prevailed on to come to Settlement, and this he did not consent to, till he found the Voice of almost the whole Congregation against him, nor till his Fellow-Trustees joined in declaring it their Opinion, that he should account to the Vestry; and a Committee was then accordingly appointed.

This was early in the Year 1765, before the Charter was obtained, and also before Mr. Bankson ever made any Complaint of the injurious Report, which, he says, induced him of his own Accord to apply for a Settlement.

Nevertheless, though a Committee was thus appointed, Mr. Bankson never came to a Settlement before them; telling one of the Members of the Committee, who pressed him to it, that the Settlement might be made in Half an Hour; but the said Member, not thinking it safe to enter on a Settlement on such Terms, declared that he expected Vouchers, and thought, as the Accounts were long unsettled, a strict Examination should be made, which would require more Time.

Thus the Matter stood till the Charter was passed; when the Corporation, at their first Meeting, peremptorily insisted, that Mr. Bankson should accomplish the Settlement so long desired; giving for their Reasons, in the Resolve now on Record, and lying before us, "that the Accounts had never been settled to "the Satisfaction of the Congregations."----Not a Word of Mr. Bankson's Application for a Settlement appears, which would not have been omitted, had he made any such Application, as the Books were then in the Hands of one of Mr. Bankson's Friends, who, we have Reason to believe, would not neglect any Acts of Favour to Mr. Bankson.----But suppose the Case as Mr. Bankson would have it, we think it is but little to his Credit, that he should have delayed the Justice due to the Congregations, and the Settlement so often called for, till forced to it by what he stiles an "injurious Report."

3. Mr. Bankson meanly strives to impose on the Public, by the second Certificate he publishes, which every Body would believe, had some Regard to his Trust as Receiver of the Church Revenues. But this is not the Case; for that Certificate relates only to a particular Sum, which had no Connection with the Church Revenues; but was borrowed, and laid out, for the Repair of Wicacoa Church.

4. We had asserted in our last, that no Report had ever been laid before the Vestry by the Committee on Mr. Bankson's Accounts. He, in his Answer, says, "a Report was made and objected to, only by Mr. Wrangel, because Mr. Grantham had not signed the Account." We must state this Affair properly. It is true the Doctor did object to the Account, because he was unjustly charged with having received Forty Pounds of Mr. Bankson, which he never had received, as appeared to the Vestry on Examination; and as to Mr. Grantham, he refused to sign the Account, because Mr. Bankson only offered it to him in Vestry, without his ever having an Opportunity to examine what he was to sign; and when he did desire such an Opportunity, Mr. Bankson told him, as he now tells the Public, that "a Settlement by three of the four was sufficient without him."

The Vestry, therefore, having desired a further Examination of the Accounts by the Committee, and a second Report, that second Report hath never yet been made, which they think they are as much entitled to as the first; and they cannot but think it strange Conduct, that one Man of the Committee should take upon him to screen Mr. Bankson, by keeping in his Hands the Accounts, and chief Part of the Vouchers, though demanded by the Corporation.

We do not know who is Mr. Bankson's Lawyer, that tells him he cannot be compelled to a Settlement. Indeed Mr. Bankson has often told the Vestry long ago, that he was not accountable to them, which was the first Cause of their Suspicion against him; and we think these Suspicions will hardly be removed by his declaring in Public, that it is not in our Power to compel him to render another (that is a true) Account.

Mr. Bankson seems much at a Loss for Matter to justify himself by, when he argues as follows, viz. "If the Committee did "any thing irregular (though I cannot see wherein) what is that "to me? It was not my Business to appoint a new Committee."---And again, "If any Man had an Account to settle with the "Swedish Corporation, and three of their own Body were to "sign a Certificate, whether he would not think the Matter "concluded?"---We answer, that we should not think it at all concluded, if that Committee (as was the Case) were only appointed to examine the Accounts, and lay their Report and Vouchers before those who appointed them. We should think it much less concluded, if (as in this Case still) one of the Committee kept the Accounts and Papers in his Hands, and refused to join with the other two Members of the Committee in laying the Papers before their Constituents. So that although "some of the Corporation have certified a Ballance in one particular Matter to be in Mr. Bankson's Favour, we do not think our "Threats idle," when, agreeable to our Duty, we speak of compelling him to a general Settlement of all his Accounts; and deny that the Act of some of the Corporation is the Act of the whole.

We would ask Mr. Bankson, what the Assembly of this Province would think, what the Corporation of the City would think, or what any other Vestry or incorporated Body would think, if they appointed a Committee to audit and report Accounts, and the Persons, whose Accounts were to be settled, should, in the first Instance, publish that Report, without laying it before the constituent Body, and should even get one of the Committee, when called on, to refuse making a Report, or submitting the Settlement to the Inspection of the public Body, who named them to that Service? Would this be agreeable to the usual Course of Business? Or does not the Refusal of this argue something wrong?

Mr. Bankson asks, why a whole Year has elapsed without his being called on for a new Settlement? We are sorry our Tenderness to him, and patient Expectation of the Accounts, should be made a Charge against us.

In a Word, from what Part of Mr. Bankson's Accounts appears before us, which are only for two or three Years, we cannot perceive any proper Settlement ever to have been made, since he was in the Trust; and no Vouchers appear but for a very small Part of the large Sums that must have passed through his Hands, even in these last Years of his Trust. Whatever Papers of his are in our Keeping, that can help him to a Settlement, will not be denied him; and those which may be in the Hands of his Friend of the Committee, it is in his own Power, and his Interest to produce. As to his Proposal to leave the Accounts to three indifferent Men, we apprehend the Vestry or Coporation have not a Right to delegate their Powers to others. Such a Step would be unworthy of them, and we wonder Mr. Bankson should desire it, when he has already published to the World, that the Vestry, or many of them, are his Friends. But if they were not, we think, from the Characters they sustain, he may expect ample Justice, and has nothing to fear from a strict Examination.

Thus is the Matter fairly stated between us and him. If Mr. Bankson thinks proper to deny any Part, we have our Vouchers ready to prove what we have said; but shall be sorry, if we are forced to trouble the Public any more about an Affair of which too much has been already said in public; and which, it seems, we must seek other Methods of settling. Mr. Bankson has twice called us anonymous Writers; but we think he knows the Names of all the Swedish Corporation, and of us who are their Committee. Nay he has, not very consistently, published the Name of one of our Committee in the same Paper wherein he stiles us Anonymous.

We cannot consider ourselves as nameless or unknown Persons, and whatever Abuse he or his Friends may throw upon us or our Minister, in such nameless and unfair Pieces as that of the Layman, we think them unworthy of our Notice; who have kept to Facts, and avoided all Abuse, in this Dispute with Mr. Bankson.

The Matter between our Minister and Mr. Bankson, and between us and him, is just this; that our Minister suspects, and we suspect, that a just Account has not been rendered by him of his Trust. We insist on having such an Account; and while we have it not, our Suspicions must remain, and we are very indifferent what hard Names he may bestow on that Account.

* We presume this Mr. Wrangel may be the same Gentleman that Mr. Bankson calls Charles Magnus in his first Advertisement, and Doctor Wrangel in his second, unless his Imagination has split his Antagonist into three.

The PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

Containing the Freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtic.

To the PUBLIC.

WE being charged by William Streper, of being "ſo loſt to the principles of religion and virtue, as to charge a neighbour, without the leaſt foundation in truth, with an offence on which the laws of the country inflict a puniſhment, that, to a generous mind, would be ſcarce leſs ſevere than death."

We now declare what we have ſet our names to is truth, and if William Streper declares what he is charged with is forgery, many others think the ſame, and more ſo, as he declares he is to be at no coſt, let who will proſecute his crime; and we have no room to think otherwiſe from the evidence before us, ſome on oath, and ſome wrote and ſigned with their names, and are both ready and willing to be called to account for what we have done; and verily think the puniſhment inflicted by law would well become his crime.

The reaſon why ſo long time has elaſped is, when the Strepers were bound over for forgery before Samuel Aſhmead, Eſq; ſome of Streper's friends promiſed Nathan Sheppard he ſhould be indemnified againſt that deed, which William Streper has ſince declared, in preſence of a large number of merchants, and others, was it to take place, would do Sheppard above £ 500 damage, and deſtroy the mill: On the faith of theſe promiſes, Sheppard and his friends being deſirous of peace, he (Sheppard) at court informed the grand jury what he knew of the affair, and of what Streper's friends had promiſed him.---No evidence was ſummoned to attend, and there the recognizance reſted, and thoſe promiſes are not complied with to this day. Sheppard's friends were never willing he ſhould ſue until it was ended in meeting; and Streper teſtified againſt, for the fact, which was but a few months paſt; and Dennis Streper has declared that his bargain with William was void when he ſold to Sheppard, as appears by ſeveral evidences before us.

As attornies to Nathan Sheppard, we think ourſelves in duty bound, as he is abſent, to preſent to the public ſome facts he is charged with, as they really are, and let the impartial judge, if he is not charged without the leaſt foundation in truth and juſtice; where Streper ſays, "here it ſhould be known that Nathan Sheppard, without the knowledge of Dennis Streper, had marked a beach tree;" the fact is, one of Sheppard's neighbours informed him there was a deſign againſt his pond, and adviſed him to get men, level the dam, and mark it the ſame as in Streper's time; he accordingly applied to Joſeph, John and Jonathan Pauls, men well known in this country, who affixed the mark on the beach for the height as in Streper's time, to which mark Sheppard honeſtly bought and paid for, as will fully appear. The charges againſt Nathan Sheppard by William Streper, at executing the deed, were alſo brought againſt Nathan Sheppard (to the committee, who were men of repute, choſen from ſeveral counties) by Samuel Morris of Whitemarſh, and Thomas Livezey, and proved falſe to their faces by Dennis Streper, who then declared in their preſence, that he ſold to that mark to Nathan Sheppard, and intended ſo to do: And alſo at that time mentioned a bond, in which he had obliged Sheppard, under the penalty of five hundred pounds, to raiſe the water no higher than the mark in the beach, to which committee we appeal for the truth of what we aſſert, and the condition of which bond is as follows.

"The condition of the above obligation is ſuch, that whereas Nathan Sheppard hath bought a lot of land of the ſaid Dennis Streper, with liberty to keep up his dam as high as a notch in a beach in the dam near the Race. Now if the ſaid Nathan Sheppard, his heirs, executors, and aſſigns, ſhall and will, from time to time, and at all times for ever hereafter, keep his dam ſo low as the ſaid notch in the beach, and maintain a fence from the high rock along the creek ſide for ever, up to the line, then the above obligation to be void, or elſe to be and remain in full force and virtue. Signed, NATHAN SHEPPARD.

Sealed and delivered in the preſence of

JOB BUTCHER,
PATRICK MENAN.

This bond was wrote and ſigned the ſame day the deed was, and by the ſame clerk.---As Streper has been pleaſed to call the clerk for an evidence, take it as follows, wrote and ſigned with his own hand, who was ſworn before Samuel Aſhmead, Eſq; on the 4th day of September, 1762. On the 30th day of March, 1761, I ſurveyed a lot of land the ſaid Dennis Streper ſold to the ſaid William Streper for to erect a mill on, as they ſaid.----And in January, 1762, I ſurveyed another lot of land the ſaid Dennis Streper ſold to Nathan Sheppard, with a privilege of keeping up his mill dam as high as it was in William Streper's time, for which I wrote a deed on or about the 4th of February, 1762, which deed was then executed by ſaid Dennis and wife, for which they received the conſideration in full, and in the time this deed was drawing, the ſaid Dennis and William Streper came in, and knew and heard me ſay, that I was writing Nathan Sheppard's deed, to which William Streper made anſwer, and ſaid, Dennis Streper might ſell his land and waters, they were his own, to whom he pleaſed, and about four months after William Streper had a deed made and executed for his firſt mentioned lot, and would have the deed dated at the time he bought and had it ſurveyed, which Dennis was loth to do, but William ſeemingly inſiſted upon it, and ſaid he would maintain his right againſt any body, then the ſaid deed was ſo executed, to which I wrote my name as an evidence. Signed PATRICK MENAN.

Now, can any man think this clerk would ſwear what Streper has declared he will; or has he ſaid it to amuſe the public, and deſtroy Sheppard's character? every candid mind muſt think. He ſays he has offered to leave it to the attorney general; as the public may judge of that, we ſhall ſtate the facts. On the 28th of January, 1763, it was agreed by Sheppard and Streper, before a number of men, met to ſettle their diſpute, that they would jointly apply together, and be at equal expence, ſtate their caſe to Benjamin Chew, Eſq; and, purſuant to his judgment, their diſpute ſhould be ſettled; and accordingly, on the 14th of February, 1763, they, with a reputable neighbour in company, applied, ſtated their caſe together, and took his opinion in writing, which Streper has ever refuſed to comply with, for the truth of which, we appeal to ſaid committee; and why theſe eſſential facts, on which his title depends, was then omitted, muſt be, becauſe they were never known or thought on at that time.

As the mill is now ſold, we ſhall give the public no more trouble, but declare what we have advertiſed is ſo far from being grounded in malice or ill-will to William Streper, that we ſincerely wiſh he may ſee his error, and bring forth fruit meet for repentance, be reſtored to the favour of God, and his former ſtanding in the church, from which he is at preſent cut off.

College of Philadelphia, July 29, 1767.

AT a Meeting of the Truſtees, held the 12th of laſt May, it being moved to the Board, that the conferring the uſual Degrees in Phyſic on deſerving Students, would contribute greatly to encourage the Medical School, lately inſtituted in this Seminary, promote Emulation among the Students, and tend to put the Practice of Phyſic on a more reſpectable Footing in America; the Motion was unanimouſly agreed to, and the following Courſe of Studies and Qualifications, after mature Deliberation, were fixed on and enacted, as requiſite to entitle phyſical Students to their different Degrees, viz.

For a BATCHELOR's DEGREE in PHYSIC.

1. It is required that ſuch Students as have not taken a Degree in any College, ſhall, before Admiſſion to a Degree in Phyſic, ſatisfy the Truſtees and Profeſſors of the College, concerning their Knowledge in the Latin Tongue, and in ſuch Branches of Mathematics, Natural and Experimental Philoſophy, as ſhall be judged requiſite to a medical Education.

2. Each Student ſhall take at leaſt one Courſe in Anatomy, Materia Medica, Chemiſtry, Theory and Practice of Phyſic, and Clynical Lectures, and ſhall attend the Practice of the Pennſylvania Hoſpital for one Year; and may then be admitted to a public Examination for a Batchelor's Degree in Phyſic; provided, that on a previous private Examination by the medical Truſtees and Profeſſors, and ſuch other Truſtees and Profeſſors as chuſe to attend, ſuch Students ſhall be judged fit to undergo a public Examination, without attending any more Courſes in the Medical School.

3. It is further required, that each Student, previous to the Batchelor's Degree, ſhall have ſerved a ſufficient Apprenticeſhip to ſome reputable Practitioner in Phyſic, and be able to make it appear that he has a general Knowledge in Pharmacy.

QUALIFICATIONS for a DOCTOR's DEGREE in PHYSIC.

It is required for this Degree, that at leaſt three Years ſhall have intervened from the Time of taking the Batchelor's Degree, and that the Candidate be full 24 Years of Age, and ſhall write and defend a Theſis publicly in College, unleſs he ſhould be beyond Seas, or ſo remote on the Continent of America, as not to be able to attend without manifeſt Inconvenience; in which Caſe, on ſending a written Theſis, ſuch as ſhall be approved by the College, the Candidate may receive his Doctor's Degree, but his Theſis ſhall be printed and publiſhed at his own Expence.

This Scheme of a medical Education is propoſed to be on as extenſive and liberal a Plan, as in the moſt reſpectable European Seminaries, and the utmoſt Proviſion is made for rendering a Degree a real Mark of Honor, the Reward only of diſtinguiſhed Learning and Abilities. As it is calculated to promote the Benefit of Mankind, by the Improvement of the beneficent Art of Healing, and to afford an Opportunity to Students of acquiring a regular medical Education in America, it is hoped it will meet with public Encouragement; more eſpecially, as the central Situation of this City, the eſtabliſhed Character of the medical Profeſſors, the Advantages of the College, and of the public Hoſpital, all conſpire to promiſe Succeſs to the Deſign.

For the further Advantage of medical Students, a Courſe of Lectures will be given by the Profeſſor of NATURAL and EXPERIMENTAL PHILOSOPHY, each Winter, in the College, where there is an elegant and compleat Apparatus provided for that Purpoſe; and where medical Students may have an Opportunity of compleating themſelves in the Languages, or any Parts of the Mathematics, at their Leiſure Hours.

Agreeable to the foregoing Regulations, the Public is now informed, that on the firſt Monday in November next, the following Courſes of Lectures will be begun by the reſpective Profeſſors, viz.

A compleat Courſe of Lectures on ANATOMY; to which will be added, all the Operations in SURGERY, and the Mode of applying all the neceſſary Bandages, &c.

A Courſe of Lectures on the Theory and Practice of MEDICINE, which will be preceded by a general Explanation of the Theory of CHEMISTRY, accompanied with ſome neceſſary Operations, to render a Knowledge of this Science eaſy and familiar to the inquiſitive Student.

A Courſe of CLYNICAL LECTURES, to be delivered in the Pennſylvania Hoſpital, wherein the Treatment of both ACUTE and CHRONIC DISEASES will be exemplified, in the Caſes of a great Number of Patients.

Each Courſe of Lectures will be finiſhed by the Beginning of May, in Time for thoſe who intend to offer as Candidates for a Degree in Phyſic, to prepare themſelves for the Examination before the Commencement of the enſuing Year.

Such Gentlemen as incline to attend the above Courſes, are deſired to apply ſome Days before the Lectures begin, to furniſh themſelves with the neceſſary Tickets of Admiſſion.

To the PUBLIC.

I HAVE peruſed a ſecond anonymous Piece, in the two laſt weekly Papers, under the Name of the Committee of the Churches of Wicacoa, &c. The Author of which, it ſeems, conſcious of his being engaged in the dirty and inhuman Work of ſtabbing an innocent Reputation in the Dark, though repeatedly called on, dares not put his Name to his Calumnies. Were the Charges made againſt me, founded in Truth, can it be preſumed, that he would ſuffer the Imputation, which every juſt Man muſt make, of acting the unmanly Part of the inſidious Indian, who chooſes to fire his poiſoned Arrows, from his concealed Retreat, at his expoſed and unſheltered Opponent, than openly appear, and vindicate his Cauſe. Under theſe Circumſtances, I readily confeſs that I am not, nor do I believe any other Perſon whatever would be, capable of ſupporting ſo unequal a Conteſt. It is much eaſier to invent than to diſprove Falſhoods; and the envenomed Breath of Slander, even from the malevolent Pen of the anonymous Scribler, has too frequently Weight with the unthinking Part of Mankind. But I truſt, nor will I ſuffer myſelf to doubt, but that the Candid and Judicious will hold this Method of attempting to ruin my Reputation, in its proper Light, as it may be every Man's Caſe, and readily perceive the low Art and Cunning of Mr. Wrangel, in ſkulking behind the Scene, and publiſhing, or cauſing to be publiſhed, the Ebullitions of his malignant Heart againſt me.

I ſhall, therefore, avoid a full Anſwer to the many Untruths contained in the aforementioned Piece. To diſprove all the Calumnies that may be, or that have been already invented, under Mr. Wrangel's Patronage, would be as fatiguing to the Public, as it would be unreaſonable in them to expect it from me. I ſhall, therefore, only take notice of one, and lay it before them, as a Specimen of Mr. Wrangel's Candour and Honeſty. It is alledged, that "Mr. Wrangel did object to my Account, becauſe he was unjuſtly charged with having received Forty Pounds, which he had never received, as appeared to the Veſtry, on Examination." The Fact alluded to, and which is baſely miſrepreſented, ſtands truly thus; one of the Committee, to whom my Accounts were referred, in ſtating them for the View of the Committee, by Miſtake charged the Church with 42*l.* 10*s.* 6*d.* paid Mr. Wrangel; this naturally aroſe from a Receipt wrote and ſigned by Mr. Wrangel himſelf, in which the Words Four two Pounds ten Shillings and Sixpence were inſerted, and the Figures 42*l.* 10*s.* 6*d.* underneath. Upon a Re-examination of the Account, by the Committee, before it was laid before the Veſtry, the Miſtake was diſcovered and rectified by a Credit of Forty Pounds given to the Church, at the Foot of the Account, and the Ballance was ſtruck accordingly. In this Situation the Account was brought to be laid before the Veſtry, at the ſame time the Report of the Settlement was made; and I am ſo fortunate as to be able to prove theſe to be the real Circumſtances of the Fact, which is ſo miſrepreſented and perverted by Mr. Wrangel to my Prejudice, by the very Accounts, which are in the Hands of Mr. Keen, one of the Committee. I could ſeverely animadvert on this ſecond groundleſs and malevolent Attempt of my pious Friend Mr. Wrangel, to ruin my Reputation as a Dealer. But I forbear, leaving him to the Stings of his own Conſcience, if he has not intirely eraſed from thence all Senſe of Remorſe, and the Public to their own Reflections on ſo diſhoneſt and extraordinary a Conduct.

I ſhall now take a final Leave of Mr. Wrangel and his inſidious Abettors, by only reminding them, that I have propoſed to ſubmit my Account to any Sett of honeſt and indifferent Men.---The Reaſon aſſigned for rejecting ſo candid and juſt an Offer, viz. "that the Veſtry are not empowered to delegate their Power to any others," is too groſs to be ſwallowed. The Repreſentatives of the Churches are a corporate Body, and conſequently, may either ſue for, or refer any Matter in Diſpute; and if they do not chuſe to accept my Propoſal, they are at Liberty to take the other Method, in which I have not the leaſt Doubt of receiving full Juſtice from a Jury of my Country.

LONDON, May 18.

Extract of a Letter from Madrid, April 20.

"A French gentleman, in the ſervice of Spain, in quality of Captain to a regiment of foot, which was ſtationed at Paraguay, happening to be in a houſe of the Jeſuits on that continent, two manuſcripts fell into his hands, conſiſting, it is ſaid, of inſtructions from the General of the ſociety to the miſſionaries in India. The Officer perceiving that theſe inſtructions contained atrocious things, as well againſt the King of Spain, as againſt the Pope, he took and clapped them up carefully in his pocket-book. The ſuperior of the Jeſuits finding the manuſcript miſſing, ſuſpected the Officer of having taken them, and employed prayers, promiſes, and threats to prevail on him to reſtore them; but the Officer having denied ſeeing them, the Jeſuits had recourſe to the authority of Mr. Savallos, Commandant-General of Paraguay, who being devoted to the Jeſuits, cauſed the French Officer to be condemned by a council of war, under pretence of diſobedience, to loſe his employ, and to remain eight years in confinement at Ceuta. After this ſentence, the Officer having found means to inform his family in France of his condition, they ſolicited the Spaniſh miniſtry in his favour, and obtained an order for his being brought to Madrid. At his arrival he delivered up the two manuſcripts in queſtion to the Count d'Aranda, with whom he had ſeveral conferences. As to Mr. de Savallos, he is recalled, and diſgraced."

Extract of a letter from Paris, April 27.

"The pragmatick ſanction of the King of Spain againſt the Jeſuits in his ſtates, is publicly ſold by the hawkers here and in Spain.

"In 1598, theſe fathers were baniſhed from France, for being concerned in the aſſaſſination of King Henry IV. They were driven from England by Queen Elizabeth in 1602; from the republic of Venice in 1605; from Poland in 1607; from Bohemia, Sileſia, Moravia, and Hungary, in 1619, where, however, they are again re-eſtabliſhed. They were expelled from Portugal and France, and now juſt baniſhed for ever from the monarchy of Spain.

On Saturday night ſome diſpatches were ſent away for Sir Henry Moore, Bart. Governor of New-York, ſaid to be relative to the late reſolutions of an auguſt aſſembly.

A late important reſolution, we are aſſured, was carried by 180 to 98.

Extract of a letter from the Eccleſiaſtic-State, April 18.

"The Pope has addreſſed a brief to the King of Spain, to engage him to relent in favour of the Jeſuits; and, at all events, declaring that he will not receive them.

Extract of a letter from Florence, April 18.

"We are juſt now informed by a letter from Rome, that after a deliberation on the ſubject of what has happened to the Jeſuits in Spain, it was reſolved not to receive in the Pope's territories any other of thoſe religious than ſuch as are Italians by birth; and that orders to that purpoſe had been diſpatched to the Governors of all the ports in the Eccleſiaſtic State. We are not a little ſurprized at this news, ſince thoſe fathers are each of them to enjoy a life-annuity, and of courſe need not become burthenſome to the ſtate where they reſide. There are thouſands of conjectures made here on the occaſion of this cataſtrophe of the Jeſuits. We always thought that Spain was the laſt country where they were likely to ſuffer ſuch a diſgrace. The ſociety had its birth there, and Don Ignatius de Loyola, its founder, was a natural born ſubject of that kingdom."

We learn from Edinburgh, that the fine carpet, which was ſome time ago ordered to be manufactured at Pittenweem, in Fifeſhire, for her royal highneſs the Princeſs Dowager of Wales, is now finiſhed, and laſt week was ſhewn to a vaſt number of people at the cuſtom-houſe. It is eſteemed by the beſt judges to rival, if not excel, the manufacture of Turkey and Perſia; the figures are finely fancied; the colour exquiſite; and the whole ſo highly finiſhed, as to excite univerſal admiration. It is about twenty-five feet long, by ſeventeen in breadth.---The drawing of the pattern alone, by which it was worked, it is ſaid, coſt fifty pounds, and the carpet itſelf, we are told, is valued at three hundred pounds ſterling. On Monday laſt it was ſent off by the waggon for London.

On Friday laſt the Prince Frederick, Captain Hanan, one of the tranſports who ſailed with Commodore Byron to Patagonia in South America, arrived in the Downs, and remains for orders; and, we hear, he has got on board three men, two women, a boy and a girl of that country.

The General Court of the Eaſt-India company, which met on Monday at Merchant-Taylors-hall, did not break up till five yeſterday morning. The papers and letters received from abroad were read, and the general ſtate of the company's affairs was laid before them; after which a motion was made for offering the Government 400,000 l. per annum for three years, or half their profits in trade for that time, which ever they ſhould prefer; which was agreed to; then a motion was made for petitioning to be heard by Council againſt the bill depending for regulating the dividends, and a great debate aroſe thereupon; at length a ballot for the queſtion was propoſed, Fifty Gentlemen proteſted againſt that motion; but, notwithſtanding, the ballot began at ten on Monday night, and was declared at four yeſterday morning, in favour of the petition.

A ſtop, it is ſaid, will ſoon be put to the enormous exportation of ſilver to the Eaſt-Indies.

CHARLESTOWN (SOUTH-CAROLINA) June 30.

Letters from Penſacola make mention of a reinforcement of Spaniſh troops being arrived at New-Orleans; part of which, with a convoy of proviſions, and ſome preſents for the Indians, was gone up the Miſſiſippi, to take poſſeſſion of the territories on the weſtern ſide of the river, ceded to Spain.

The ſame letters add, that the French government ſtill continues at New-Orleans.

Extract of a letter from New-Providence, dated June 24, 1767.

"By a veſſel in three days from Porto Prince, in Cuba, we are aſſured, that all the Jeſuits in that iſland had been ſeized a few days before ſhe ſailed, together with their papers and effects, to a very conſiderable amount, and carried to Havanna, in order to be ſent from thence to Old Spain: They had not the leaſt notice or apprehenſion of this extraordinary revolution till they ſaw themſeves ſurrounded in their convents, &c. by a number of ſoldiers, and their perſons and properties conveyed, under guard, to the principal port in the iſland. This is all the news we have of any importance."

July 14. From North Carolina we are informed, that Governor Tyron, with the commiſſioners appointed for that purpoſe, joined by the chiefs of the Cherokee nation, on the 4th of June, began to run out the boundary line between North-Carolina and the Cherokee Hunting-Grounds, at the Corner Tree on Reedy River, where the line behind the province terminates. The ſurveyors went a north courſe 53 miles, marking as they went into the mountains; and on the 13th of June, they marked ſeveral trees on the top of Mount Tryon, on the head waters of White Oak and Pacolet Creeks, running into Green and Broad Rivers; but ſeveral obſtacles having impeded a further ſurvey, it was agreed by the whole, that the boundary ſhould be a direct line from the ſaid marked trees to Chiſwell's mines in Virginia; which being ſettled and agreed upon, proper inſtruments were drawn up, and ſigned by the parties preſent, to be tranſmitted to his Majeſty.---The Indians were ſo highly pleaſed with his Honour's condeſcenſion to their ſeveral Requiſitions, that they complimented him with the war name of the Great Wolf of North-Carolina.

Extract of a letter from Penſacola, June 13.

"Our aſſembly is diſſolved by the Lieutenant-Governor, and new writs of election are about to be iſſued: Diſputes run high, ſo that the whole province ſeems to be in confuſion.

"Other letters from the ſame place mention, that 5 traders had been lately found murdered on the Cherokee river, by (as the Cherokees ſay) ſome of the northern tribes who have ſtrolled thus far ſouth. The Creeks, by burning a Choctaw headman alive, whom they lately made priſoner, has kindled up afreſh the fury of that Nation, which had almoſt ſubſided."

Friday laſt arrived here, his Majeſty's ſhip Cygnet, Philip Durrell, Eſq; commander, from Weſt-Florida; who, on his Paſſage touched at the Havanna, where the Dons complimented him with a twenty-four pounder from the Moro, which went through his larboard quarter, about 6 inches above water: Such treatment not reliſhing well with a free Britiſh ſubject, the Captain ſent a letter to the Governor, complaining of the inſult offered the Britiſh flag; and received for anſwer, that it was his catholick Majeſty's orders that no Britiſh ſhip ſhould enter that port. A few days after, the adventure frigate, Captain Fitzherbert, with diſpatches from Admiral Parry, for the Spaniſh Governor, came too off the harbour; and after delivering his letters, received the uſual ſcurrilous language of Engliſh B-----r, &c.

BOSTON, July 20.

Laſt Thurſday in the Afternoon two young Men attempting to go on board a Two-Maſt Boat in our Harbour, in a Canoe, by ſome Accident overſet, and one of them, named Loring, was drowned. His Body was taken up on Friday, and decently interred on Saturday. He has left a ſorrowful Widow, and ſeveral Children.

A Letter from London of a late date ſays, "His Majeſty, whoſe Attention to Learning and the Sciences, ever ſince his Auſpicious Reign, has been conſpicuous to the whole World, is now making the moſt valuable Library in Europe, or perhaps in the World; having Agents in all Parts to collect Books for this truly Royal Purpoſe, and ſome of the moſt learned Men in Great Britain are now employed in putting them in the proper Order.

NEW-YORK, July 23.

Captain Braſs of this Port, who has been miſſing for 6 Months paſt, is arrived at New-Orleans, after being 5 Months at Sea.

Captain William Moore, of the Brig Africa, who arrived here on Sunday laſt from New-Orleans, brought with him one George Cahoon, a Lad of about 15 or 16 Years old, who ſays that he was (with the whole Family) taken about 10 Years ago, from Cumberland County, in Virginia, by the French Iroquois Indians, that his Father's Name was alſo George Cahoon, and that three of his Brothers, and three of his Siſters, were ſtill with the Indians when he was purchaſed by a French Officer, and carried to the Miſſiſippi; the ſaid Lad is now by Choice going to Trois Riviere in Canada, attending on two young Gentlemen, Sons of the Surveyor General of New-Orleans.

Tueſday laſt arrived here Captain Cotton, from Iſaquibo, but 15 Days from St. Euſtatia. The Day he ſailed from thence, the Brig Helena, Captain Harriot, arrived at Statia, from this Port in her Way to Coracoa, and had brought in with him Dr. Vanzoling, late Owner, and Captain Livingſton, Maſter of a Sloop, from this Port, bound for the Weſt-Indies, together with all his Men, which Captain Harriot took off of the Wreck at Sea, ſix Days after he left from this Port:---By ſeveral Letters from them, we have the following melancholly Account of their Diſaſter: That on the 16th of June, four Days after they left the Land, the Sloop ſprung a Leak, notwithſtanding all their Endeavours, ſhe ſoon filled: They had but few Feet of the Quarter-Deck above Water; but the Veſſel happily did not ſink under them: The next Day ſeveral Planks of the Main Deck blew up, and a pretty high Sea running, they were expoſed to the utmoſt Diſtreſs; they could not make any Sail at all, but were left to the Mercy of the Waves: After continuing in this deplorable Condition above four Days, Captain Harriot happily appeared, and took them up: They ſaved nothing but the wet Cloaths on their Backs, and as the Veſſel began to fall to pieces juſt as they were diſcovered, it is thought, had not the kind Providence of God ſo ſeaſonably interpoſed, that in a few Hours more they would all have periſhed.

July 27. Thurſday laſt Captain Bryſen arrived here from Newfoundland, in 33 Days: He ſays, that only one Veſſel was there from the Continent, and that a Brig from Philadelphia, when he ſailed, and but few from England, but that Commodore Palliſer was daily expected. Fiſh very ſcarce.

Extract of a Letter from New-Orleans, dated June 21, 1767.

"Monſieur De Ulloa continues at the Bellies; the Spaniards are building a Fort oppoſite the old one on the Right Hand as you enter the River, another within Gun Shot of Fort-Bute, another below the Natches, on the Weſt Side of the River, and a Fourth near Fort Chartres, Ilinois. Brigadier Haldiman is daily expected here on his Way to the Natches: We hear the Lieutenant-Governor has occaſioned a general Diſſatisfaction among the Inhabitants of Penſacola."

The Report we had on Wedneſday laſt of the Arrival of the Act of Parliament for the Legiſlative Authority of this Province to ceaſe until the Billeting Act is complied with, we can aſſure the Public, is without Foundation, as no ſuch Act was brought here in the Gaſpee, Captain Allan.

The 17th and 46th Regiments are now embarked on board the Tranſports deſtined for England; and the 28th embarks at Amboy: They have been more than 10 Years in America; and the 17th carries home no more than 60 Men, out of 750, that came to America in it.

Captain Elder in 17 Days from Coracoa, informs us, that Proviſions of all Sorts are ſo prodigious plenty in all the Weſt-India Iſlands, there is no Market for any Thing from the Northward; and that notwithſtanding the Spaniards at Laguira are in a ſtarving Condition, they would not admit a Frenchman into their Port with a Supply of any Thing.

Friday Evening laſt Captain Tuder arrived here in 12 Days from St. Euſtatia: Laſt Tueſday he ſpoke with Captain Finglaſs from the Streights for this Port, and ſaw 7 other Veſſels in Company, all which he imagined were bound in here.

Saturday arrived here a Tranſport from Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, July 30.

To Meſſieurs HALL and SELLERS.

GENTLEMEN,

As a juſt Tribute, due to the worthy OFFICERS, and brave MEN, of the ROYAL HIGHLAND REGIMENT, pleaſe to give the following a Place in your next Paper, to teſtify the grateful Senſe the People of this Province retain of their Services, and the Senſe they have of their Behaviour while in this City; in doing which, you will oblige Your real Friend,

A PENNSYLVANIAN.

LAST Sunday Evening the Royal Highland Regiment embarqued for Ireland; which Regiment, ſince its Arrival in America, is diſtinguiſhable for having undergone moſt amazing Fatigues; made long and frequent Marches through an inhoſpitable Country, bearing the moſt exceſſive Heat, and ſevereſt Cold, with Alacrity and Chearfulneſs; frequently encamping in the deep Snows, ſuch as thoſe who inhabit the interior Parts of this Province but rarely ſee, and which thoſe only who inhabit the moſt Northern Parts of Europe, can have an Idea of; continually expoſed in Camp, and on their Marches, to the Alarms of the ſavage Enemy, who as frequently flew from them ſucceſsleſs in their Attempts; were preſent at almoſt every Engagement during the late War in the Weſt-Indies and America; ſerved at Guadaloupe, Martinico, the Havannah, at Ticonderago, at the Reduction of Fort Du Queſne, at the Reduction of Canada. They have the ſincere Thanks of the Freemen of this Province, for that ſtill further diſtinguiſhing Mark of their Reſolution and Bravery, by which, under the Conduct of Col. BOUQUET, aſſiſted with a ſmall Number of the Royal Americans, this, and the neighbouring Provinces, are now at Eaſe, and have the Bleſſings of Peace ſecured to them, from any further Interruption from the ſavage Enemy; and that though they were much inferior in Number, and had an additional Diſadvantage, a large Convoy to protect, they defeated an Enemy, whom, if ſucceſsful, would have deſolated the whole Frontier; and, inſtead of the Diſtreſs, which would have been conſequently felt in the interior Parts of the Province, have reſtored a beneficial and advantageous Commerce. Beſides our Thanks for having thus ſecured our Peace, they receive our Thanks for that Decorum in Behaviour, which they kept up during their Stay in the Barracks of this City, giving an Example, that the moſt amiable Behaviour in civil Life, is not inconſiſtent with the Character of the good Soldier; and for their Loyalty, Fidelity and orderly Behaviour, the Inhabitants of this City wiſh them, the Officers and Men, Health, Happineſs, a ſafe and agreeable Voyage.

Extract of a Letter from London, dated May 22, 1767.

"Incloſed I ſend you a Copy of the Merchants Report on the Subject of Paper Money, obtained after many Meetings, and delivered to the Miniſtry: But there are ſtill great Difficulties, the B----d of T--de being extremely averſe to the Repeal of the Act, and yet I hope we ſhall get over all, the Miniſtry being at length prevailed on to eſpouſe the Meaſure, that the Colonies may have ſomething to give on a Requiſition from the Crown, and that the Duties may increaſe by the Increaſe of Commerce.---But it is ſtrongly reported that the preſent Miniſtry will be ſoon changed; if ſo, all our Labour will be rendered fruitleſs."

The Merchants of London, trading to the Continent of America, are of Opinion;

"That the moſt ſpeedy and effectual Relief to the Colonies, in reſpect to the preſent diſtreſſed State of their Commerce, for Want of a Medium of Trade, will be the Repeal of an Act of Parliament reſpecting Bills of Credit in America, paſſed in the 4th Year of his preſent Majeſty; and that ſuch Repeal cannot hurt the Britiſh Merchants, provided a Clauſe be inſerted in the Act for the ſaid Repeal, declaring Paper Bills of Credit ſhall not be a legal Tender in Payment of any Sterling Debts or Contracts whatſoever, already made, or to be made by or with, or in the Name and Behalf of any Perſon reſiding in the Kingdom of Great-Britain."

Friday laſt Captain Woods arrived here from Montſerrat, in 16 Days, and informs, that about a Fortnight before he ſailed, Captain Whitmore arrived there from Connecticut, who on his Paſſage, in Lat. 22, Long. 61, ſaw a ſmall Schooner overſet, without any Perſon on board; there was a dead Horſe entangled in the Rigging; but as the Wind blew pretty freſh, he did not go on board her to learn further Particulars.-----Captain M'Cullough, in a Sloop for New-York, was to leave Montſerrat about the 24th Inſtant.

Captain Conyers, from Bermuda, on the 18th Inſtant, about 60 Leagues S. E. from Cape-Henry, ſpoke two ſmall Schooners in Company, bound to Antigua from Virginia, two Days out. And on the 20th, off of Chincoteague, he ſpoke a Brig from this Port for Maryland, and a Sloop from New-York for Virginia.

And on the 14th, in Lat. 38:19, Long. 73:31, he ſpoke a Schooner from Madeira for New-London, all well.

By Captain Livingſton, from Liſbon, we learn, that the Portugueſe were fitting out a Fleet of four Sail of the Line, with a great Number of Tranſports, for ſome Expedition; but the Place of their Deſtination was kept ſecret.----On the 10th Inſtant, in Lat. 32, Long. 56:20, he ſpoke a Ship, Captain Whitlock, of this Place, from Barbados for Briſtol, out 10 Days, all well.

On the 10th, at Noon, he ſaw a Veſſel aſhore on the Martiers, or ſome of the Keys thereabouts; and the next Morning he ſpoke a Schooner, from Jamaica for Carolina, the Captain of which informed him that the Veſſel aſhore was a Brig belonging to Rhode-Iſland, from the Bay of Honduras, loaded with Logwood.

Captain Sommerville, from Georgia, on the 20th Inſtant, off of Cape Hatteras, ſpoke the Sloop Liberty and Property, Captain Banks, of New-York, from Penſacola, who had carried away his Boltſprit the Night before, beating off Hatteras Shoals, and had her Pumps going, being very leaky.----And on the 21ſt, in Lat. 36:50, he ſpoke a Ship from Antigua for Virginia, but it blowing hard, he could not learn the Captain's Name.
